PREFACE

Founded early in the 20th Century, the Nokomis Club was characteristic of the volunteer organizations of the day whose membership was comprised of volunteers from all social and economic levels. As members became officers in the organization, they became trained in leadership roles and learned to create agendas, run meetings, record minutes, maintain financial records, participate in group discussions, and vote to resolve association issues. Practice in reaching decisions as outlined in the organization's constitution, the use of parliamentary procedure, and obedience to rules provided further experience in the democratic process and reinforced the values of good citizenship.

Just after mid-century, the effectiveness of nonprofit organizations and clubs was increased by educated mid-level managers who had experienced lay-offs in industry, and found employment in nonprofit organizations. These professional managers applied business methods used in industry, and utilized tools such as strategic planning, program audits, advanced financial audits, and sophisticated development methods. With these professional management methods, nonprofits became so vigorous that business hired trained nonprofit managers to organize volunteer opportunities for their employees. Employees were retained on the job longer hours while waiting to fulfill their scheduled volunteer commitments on behalf of their employer's philanthropic causes.

With shrinking volunteer commitments and improvements in the use of business strategies which raised the standards of organization and performance for all associations, participation in volunteer association activity by the turn of the 21st Century declined to well educated elites who pursue specific issues with the use of computer technology that reach and mobilize citizens on an impersonal basis.° Resulting is an exclusivity that has not only reduced opportunity for participation but also decreased the representation of a broad spectrum of values and interests vital for activities responsive to mutual organizational interests.

On the other hand, inclusiveness of a broad spectrum of association members that promotes wide spread participation in the full process of decision-making often stimulates innovative outcomes and produces solutions accepted as relevant across association boundaries. The maintenance and promotion of tolerance and diversity, cross-class fellowship, and participation and representation in the democratic process to provide the foundation for relevant widely based participatory decisions remain the challenge of volunteer associations into the 21st Century.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many thanks to the several individuals who have extended their cooperation and assistance to accomplish this historical record. Among these people are Megan Carlisle, Archivist, Eastside Heritage Center, who professionally maintains the Nokomis Archive and always made it available upon request.

Christine Himes, President of the Redmond Historical Society and Nokomis member, I appreciate your encouragement and the sponsorship of the historical society for this project. I am very grateful for the contribution by members of the Board of Trustees of Redmond Historical Society: Margaret Evers Wiese, genealogy of charter members, Joe Townsend, photo restoration, and Miguel Llanos, who saw to it that I had a functioning computer. Many thanks to Redmond Historical Society Office Manager, Monica Park, for her cooperation, assistance, and patience in the duplication of the manuscript and the photographs.

I am indebted to Georgiy Abdulfaizov for the provision of printing equipment that allowed me to complete the manuscript. The accomplished work of talented Artist Justin Phillips, whose cover and foreword illustrations enliven the spirit of Nokomis, is very much appreciated.

Thank you to Nokomis Club member, Doris Townsend, and her daughter, Cheryl Lewis, for their editing and proofreading capabilities. And—thank you to all of the current Nokomis Club members for your interest and support.

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

I know a place where the sun is like gold, And the cherry blossoms burst with snow; And down underneath is the loveliest nook, Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

One leaf is for hope, and one is for faith.

And one is for love, you know.

And God put another one in for luck—

If you search, you will find where they grow.

But you must have hope, and you must have faith,
You must love and be strong, and so,
If you work, if you wait, you will find the place
Where the four-leaf clovers grow.

[&]quot;Four-leaf Clover" is the official song of the Washington State Federation of Women's Clubs, Nokomis was a member of the federation from 1928 to 1995—a period of 67 years.

PICNIC 1940

Perfidious Pete Pluvius, proclaiming predominant power, produced prodigious precipitation, preventing peregrinating populace picnicking pastorally.

Prearranged plans popped.

Panic prevailed.

Papooses pouted.

Parents perspired.

Perforce, pleasure bent people perambulated pell-mell popular pavilion to pacify poignant pangs.

Pot luck pot pourri provided plenteous platters of palatable provender, placating pancreatic pandemonium and producing panegyrics of praise.

Picnickers partook of plump partridges, pigeon pot pie, persimmons, pancakes, pabulum, papayas, pumpkins, pecans, peanuts, popcorn, pineapple, pickerel, pop and port, poultry, pastries, pemmican, pepperpot, parboiled pork, pistachio, prunes, pretzels, porridge, peas, potatoes, plums, pears, peppers, pomegranates, and popsicles.

Playful palaver and popular pastimes provided pleasure for pampered patrons. Popular poll proved paradoxical picnic practically perfect.

Most practical solution would be to give the Town of Redmond clear title to the property with the provision that town maintains the buildings and grounds, and the property shall always be retained for club, library, and civic purposes. If the building should be inadequate and a new building erected on the premises, the same provisions shall apply. Mr. Gay was instructed to draw up papers to show cause on why a clear title should be given to the Town of Redmond with the provision that shall always be for the use of the club women, library, and other civic purposes, and that one room and the kitchen be reserved for the exclusive use of the Nokomis club as we see fit. NOKOMIS CHARTER MEMBERS*

MAY STEELE HUFFMAN, 28, was elected Commander-in-Chief at the initial Nokomis meeting on June 3, 1909. She was a Nokomis member from 1909-1910; 1911-12; 1914-20. Born in the upper Midwest, May in her late teenage years worked as a domestic for the Vaughn family in Issaquah until she married Charles Willard Huffman, part owner of the Redmond Trading Company, in 1903. She was the mother of two children, Hazel, born in 1904, and John born in 1906. May died on November 27, 1920 at the age of 39.

JENNIE WILLIAMS, 31, was selected Chief during the establishment of the Nokomis Club. She was a member of Nokomis from 1909 to 1913, and demonstrated her leadership skills as Chief Counsel from 1910-13. Originally from Indiana, Jennie at the age of 15 had married William B. Williams, who worked in Redmond as a barber. She was the mother of two children, Ola Margaret, born in 1896, and Wardolph or Wantolph, born in 1903. Jennie and her family moved away from Redmond after 1913, and eventually settled in Corning, California.

+LENNA GRETTA BREWSTER HUFFMAN, 21, became Clerk at the first Nokomis meeting. She was a member of Nokomis from 1909 to 1918, and was Clerk from 1913 to 1915, Counsel from 1915 to 1918. Lenna arrived in Redmond from Eugene, Oregon, in 1907, and soon met Hayes Huffman, part owner of Redmond Trading Company, who she married on May 23, 1909. Lenna had one daughter, Estella Beryl, born in 1910, who belonged, as Beryl Huffman Johnson, to Junior Nokomis and briefly attended Nokomis in 1943 and 1986. Lenna was an active member of the Red Cross where she served as Supervisor. She also participated in all activities of the Methodist Church, and was Sunday School Superintendent.* Lenna was only 30 years old when she passed away on September 2, 1918.

HARRIET (HATTIE) GREENMAN FORRESTER, 29, served as Banker from 1909 to 1911. She continued her membership in Nokomis from 1922 to 1949 and 1950 to 1951 to become the only charter member to belong for 30 years. Born in Iowa in February 1880, Hattie grew up in Oysterville, Pacific County, where she met and subsequently married William A. Forrester, a schoolteacher, in 1898 at Astoria, Oregon. Sometime prior to 1909 Hattie moved to Redmond as a schoolteacher's wife with two daughters, Louise, born in 1900, and Marjorie, born in 1904. Her family grew in 1909 when a son, Lyle, was born. Daughter, Louise, was a Nokomis member from 1965 to 1976. In 1949 Hattie was honored at the 40th anniversary celebration of the founding of the Nokomis Club. She died at the age of 75 in 1955.

+URANIA CATHERINE (RENE) FARRELL ADAMS, 51, was named Advocate at the first Nokomis meeting. She remained a Nokomis member until 1913, and served terms as Banker from 1910 to 1911 and Advocate from 1911 to 1913. By 1899 Rene, a native of Canada, had immigrated, become a naturalized citizen, and settled in Redmond with her husband, Ernest. She had six children four of whom survived including her eldest child and only daughter, Mabel Annie. Her sons were Alexander, born 1887, Webster, born 1888, and John, born in 1891.° Rene became a widow about 1915, when Ernest, a section boss for Northern Pacific Railroad, died. She continued to reside in Redmond with her children until her death on January 27, 1919 at the age of 60.

+MABEL ANNIE ADAMS LARSON, 24, was elected Attendant at the club's organizational meeting, and served as Clerk from 1910 to 1912. Mabel, Rene's daughter, was born in Minnesota in 1885. She was employed as a bookkeeper by the Redmond Trading Company, and sometime prior to 1920 became head bookkeeper there. About 1922 she married John Dowain Larson, who was a burman at a shipyard in Kirkland, and had a son, Richard, born in 1923. She lived in Kirkland until she died in 1969.

◆JANET ADA (JENNIE) ADAIR SIKES, 41, became a member of Nokomis at the second meeting held on June 17,1909, nevertheless, she was still considered a charter member. She attended meetings from 1909 to 1913, 1914 to 1915, 1927 to 1934, and 1936 to 1937. Jennie was born in Fredericton, New Brunswick, Canada on April 11, 1868, and immigrated with her parents to homestead at Adair Farm, Novelty, King County, in 1871.

At Adair Farm September 18, 1884, she married William Ezra Sikes, a farmer. Her husband took her to live in a log cabin he built complete with hand-hewn furniture at the present site of the Carnation Farm. The farm was so remote that supplies had to be brought in upriver from Snohomish by canoe. She had two daughters by December 1889, Mary Evaline (born July 1885), and Lulu Marguerite (born February 12, 1889), when an epidemic of diphtheria occurred that caused their deaths. Jennie also became ill with diphtheria, but was strong enough to recover.^

Subsequent to the diphtheria epidemic, Jennie and her husband moved to Redmond where Mr. Sikes constructed and operated the Valley Hotel. In 1891 a son, Lionel, was born, and in 1908 another son, Kenneth, was added to complete the family. The Valley Hotel burned down in 1910 consequently twenty years after their arrival in Redmond the family made Jennie was a great lover of farm life--and flowers. She was a very hospitable hostess and a popular member of the community. In addition to her membership in Nokomis she belonged to Eastern Star, Fall City; Novelty-Vincent Ladies' Aid; Snoqualmie Valley Grange and Auxiliary, Tolt; State of Washington Pioneers Association, Seattle; and Snoqualmie Valley Pioneer Association.

In 1938 Jennie and her husband, Ezra, sold their property adjacent to the north side of Redmond Town Park to the city. The sale enlarged the park—now called Anderson Park—to its present size. Originally, Ezra requested that the park be named in honor of Jennie, but that was not accomplished, instead, Adair House, built in 1939, was officially named for her in 1982.#

Jennie passed away at the farm in Vincent at the age of 71 on July 1, 1939. She was survived by her husband of 54 years, two sons, two granddaughters, two sisters, two brothers, fifteen nieces and nephews, and eleven grandnieces and nephews.^

She is remembered as a faithful member, willing club worker, and loved friend by Nokomis Club members, who wrote a memorial to her in a Death Resolution found in the Nokomis Minute Book 10/25/1935 to 5/28/1943, page 127-28.

MEMBERSHIP 1909 – 2009

There is a destiny that makes us sisters; None goes her way alone; All that we send into the lives of others Comes back into our own. —Nokomis Program 1936-37

Organizational history is created by the ideas, discussion, decisions, and activities shared among the members. Since regular attendance at meetings is an integral part of understanding club business, the criteria for appearing on this list is based on attendance as recorded on the secretary's roll. Listed are members who attended at least two meetings during the year, and belonged for more than one year. Members are listed by the year membership was established.

Several names are listed by last name, title, and husband's name or initials. The given name of these members is unknown, and are members who joined prior to common usage of given names that began about 1934.

In 1909 the titles given to the officers were: Commander-in-Chief, Chief, Banker, Clerk, Advocate, and Attendant. The titles of Commander-in-Chief and Chief changed to Chief Counsel and Counsel in 1910. The office of Advocate, equivalent to Sergeant-at-Arms, was discontinued in 1915; and Attendant, now known as Parliamentarian was unused after 1919. The modern titles for officers: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Sergeant-at-Arms, and Parliamentarian became standard usage about 1940.

MEET A MEMBER: LENA OTTINI

Shortly after her arrival in Redmond, Lena attended her first Nokomis meeting on February 4, 1910, and was accepted into membership on May 27, 1910. During her 60 years of active membership, Lena was President, 1913-15, 1917-19, 1922-23; Vice President 1911-13; Secretary 1968-69; Treasurer 1928-29, 1940-47; and Parliamentarian 1910-11. She served on the Redmond Library Board of Trustees from 1933 to 1954 and on the Library Board of Control for 15 years.

Born in Petaluma, California, on July 12, 1891, Lena met her husband, Antonio, a native of Preonzo, Switzerland, upon his 1902 arrival in Petaluma. She and her new husband came to Redmond in early 1909 from California with the hope of establishing a dairy farm. They were able to begin their dairy on rented land with a small home north of the Justice White home on the McRedmond homestead. The dairy business proved to be a profitable venture, and the Ottini's by 1917 were able to purchase a residence known as the Melrose Inn and the surrounding 40 acres that had been Warren Perrigo's original homestead.

For the little people, there are four new books by Thornton W. Burgess, namely, Mother West Wind's "When" stories, Mother West Wind's "When" stories and Mother West Wind's Neighbors.

Their home sat on rich bottom land that allowed Lena to cultivate a vegetable garden, and the produce she grew was often requested for suppers at the Methodist Church where diners enjoyed the salads she made from freshly picked lettuce, tomatoes, and other available vegetables. She had also planted fruit trees and contributed freshly baked fruit pies prepared in large dishes that fed a crowd. A favorite culinary activity was to cook dinners sponsored by the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service (WSCS). Another contribution she considered special was to cook for the local Girl Scout troops she accompanied to Camp Robinswood on Hood Canal.*

Without a doubt her culinary experience promoted Nokomis' reputation for good food when the club served dinners as a fundraising activity. Lena recognized that in order to pursue the charitable causes that Nokomis supported, fundraising was an important activity. She often organized these activities, and participated fully in the provision of adequate finances to reach club goals.

Sewing was another domestic occupation she enjoyed, and she constructed a number of quilts her family still enjoys. Perhaps her favorite pastime, though, was reading. According to her daughter, Helen Usibelli, she read at least two books each week. Her interest in reading lead her to be a primary advocate for the establishment of a library by the Nokomis Club in 1927. Besides her executive and administrative duties on behalf of the library, she also served as a volunteer librarian and buyer of new books. Helen recalls new books for the library were often stacked in their living room until they were catalogued then taken to be shelved at the library.

Lena utilized her writing abilities as a correspondent for the "East Side Journal" and the "Sammamish Valley News". She contributed articles about the new books available from the Redmond Library that appeared on the "Redmond Page" of the "East Side Journal". Her column, "The Town Crier", detailed personal events in the lives of the town inhabitants, and was a community favorite. Individuals often contributed these personal items to Lena by telephone since recognition was gained from seeing their name in the newspaper. Although her husband protested the inclusion of family items in "The Town Crier" column, Lena included them anyway in order to collect the additional five cents she earned for her "pin money".

Attendance at district and state conventions of the Federation of Women's Clubs where new information was shared and learned became important to Lena. After No-komis joined the federation in 1928, Lena was a frequent delegate and presence at these conferences. At one of the conferences she was awarded a medal for her participation in community service as a Pioneer Woman. Her name was also presented for a Memorial at the district convention on April 24, 1971.

Besides Nokomis Club, Lena held membership in Silver Sands Rebekah Lodge, Rebekah Past Noble Grand Club, and the Women's Society of Christian Service. In each of these clubs she served in nearly every office.*

Mr. George Dwyer of Portland spent the past week visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Beyrer.

Miss Ethel Reil left Monday for Carnation where she will make her home during the coming school year. Miss Reil will teach at the Vincent school.

Mrs. R. Burns and son Reed of Centralia were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Robstad on Thursday. Current Nokomis member Ruth Rosenbach, a neighbor of Lena's for 12 years, remembers her as a kind person and a good listener. Lena was matronly in appearance, and her unhurried manner made it easy to converse with her according to Ruth. Lena and her husband raised two sons, Ralph and Lloyd, and two daughters, Virginia and Helen. Helen has been a member of Nokomis since 1986 when she retired from her teaching career. Although Helen says she is not her mother, she has served Nokomis in the leadership positions of President, Vice-president, and Treasurer. Involvement in community service exemplified by her mother continues.

Mrs. A. Ottini and daughters Helen and Virginia visited relatives in Kent on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ashbaugh and family spent the week end at Hood river visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mattielli' spent the week end visiting relatives in Cle Ellum and Yakima

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash baugh and family spent the week end at Lewiston, Idaho.

Miss Helen Ottini left Tuesday for Shelton where she will resume her school teaching for the coming year.

Mrs. Ernest Hei was hostess on Friday at a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home honoring the birthday of Mrs. B. Robstad. There were 'six' ladies present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shotwell and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McKee were busy moving into their new homes over the week end. The Shotwells moved into their new house and the McKees moved the little house formerly occupied by the Shotwells on to their newly purchased lot across the street from its present location.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Olts and daughter Margery and Seattle relatives spent the week end ijn Yakima. The Ottini's closed their dairy business in 1945, and sold the property to a developer, but maintained their home, The Melrose Inn, until Lena passed away on December 27, 1969, two years after her husband. A neighborhood shopping center, that is the current location of Value Village, occupies the site where the Ottini farm once existed.

MEET A MEMBER: MABEL JOHNSON

Mabel Johnson became a member of Nokomis in 1927. She served as Vice-president 1930-31 and President 1931-33, and was appointed Trustee of the Redmond Library, an office she held from 1942 until 1954. She retained her membership in Nokomis until 1957—a total of 26 years.

Mabel was born on January 16, 1880, in a residence on Avondale Road at Union Hill Road, and was the daughter of pioneers, William and Matilda Perrigo. She was the twin of Arlington, and they were the third born with only two brothers who were older, Robert and Marvin. Subsequent siblings added to the family were Wells, Nellie, June, Thomas, Marian, and a second set of twins, Maude and William.

During Mabel's early childhood years, the Redmond area was still heavily forested with firs, cedars, hemlocks, and maples that grew 200 feet high with a diameter of 10 feet as well as smaller trees such as Vine Maple and Pacific Dogwoods. Ferns gave a lacy appearance to the forest that had an abundance of several different species of edible berries and streams filled with salmon. Attuned to birdsongs from outdoors, Mabel's earliest memories were of her mother singing cradle songs and ballads.*

Despite the bounty of natural food available, the first priority of the pioneers was to clear the land to establish productive farms and gardens. Mabel's father founded and operated the first trading post that imported implements and basic household staples for the pioneers. One of her father's favorite activities was to supply American flags to pioneer schools. She remembers riding her horse as a young girl behind her father's with the American flag flying as they approached Paradise Lake School at recess time. The students had seen Mabel and her father riding toward them, and cheered when they arrived to distribute the flags. Her father continued to be very patriotic, and planned entertaining 4th of July celebrations. One Independence Day he rented a steamer to tow a scow around Lake Sammamish. Family with friends filled the scow to enjoy a picnic while being towed all around the lake.+

Logs from the local forest formed the structure of the first school built in 1875, which Mabel attended located on Warren Perrigo property south of what is now Anderson Park. Also constructed on land donated by Warren Perrigo, the Melrose School replaced the log cabin as the community school with Mabel in attendance in 1887.* The Melrose School had a more traditional schoolhouse design with a peaked roof and clapboard siding, and after the Melrose School burned down, the Redmond School was built in 1892 where Anderson Park is now located. Mabel went to this school with 31 others children and two teachers until it burned down in 1895.

Intensive logging activity began in the Redmond area about 1899, and as a young woman, Mabel cooked and baked in the camps where loggers lived. One of the camps where she first cooked was in Houghton. Her routine in the evening was to wash the dishes, and then finish the baking. By the time her chores were completed, it was dark and she would have to light a lantern to carry with her to her domicile. The lighted lantern was to protect her from a cougar since common wisdom said the light from the lantern would scare the cougar away. Mabel traveled on horseback to cook for a camp on southwestern Lake Sammamish across from Monohan, at the Berg Logging Camp in Happy Valley, and for Olaf Olsen. Her brother, Robert, employed her to cook at his logging camp located on the Perrigo property now occupied by Redmond Junior High School at 166th Ave NE and NE 104th Street. Mabel claimed this was her most taxing position because she had to pack water uphill to the camp from the draw on the lower side of the hill.+

Cooking and baking remained her most enjoyable occupation throughout her life, and her family members recall the biscuits she made in a pan almost too large to fit in the oven. When the biscuits came out of the oven freshly baked, they were cooked to a feather light perfection. Her culinary experience, no doubt, enhanced the meals Nokomis prepared for their fundraising projects.

Beside her labor as a cook, Mabel enjoyed a social life. She attended dances, and after one dance in Kirkland she was escorted home by a fellow who had a horse and buggy. She and her escort were almost home, but had to cross the flooded Sammamish River over a plank road laid on stringers that rested on logs. In the dark the buggy left the planked roadway, tumbled into the ditch alongside the road, and came to rest against a fence.+

In 1908 Mabel married Mark Johnson, a slender, strapping, and handsome man. Mark was highly respected for his accomplished manners and his great heartedness. Mabel and Mark had five children, Vonal, Margarette, Myrna, James, and Glyneth. They were married for 58 years. Mark initially had a career as a logger, and then became a salesman. He partnered with an Englishman, Arthur Ball, and maintained a stall at Seattle's Public market where they sold farm produce.+

Mabel and Mark were well known for the annual pioneer picnics they held at their home each June. The occasion allowed early residents of the Sammamish Valley to renew acquaintances and reminisce with old friends and neighbors. Mabel recollected her heritage too as a member of the Washington State Pioneers Association and the American Legion Auxiliary where she served as President in 1944.

The Nokomis Club claimed her attention and participation particularly as Vice-president then President from 1931 to 1933. Her remarks delivered at the January 29, 1932, Nokomis meeting, expressed the desire to have a library building of their own, and inspired club members to thoroughly investigate the proposal. Once it was determined that the club would not incur any debt from the project, the construction of a library building was approved. Mabel's comments supplied the impetus to complete the library building, and it opened on March 1, 1933.

Mabel also served a club mother for Junior Nokomis, a club founded in 1934 to train younger women for further membership in the senior group. Her daughter, Glyneth Johnston, belonged to the junior club. Mabel additionally held membership in Redmond Rebekah Lodge, the Rebekah Past Nobel Grand Club, and the Royal Neighbors of America.

Civic obligations were very important to Mabel, and she took them very seriously. She voted in every election once women were allowed to vote which occurred in 1910 in Washington State. On a couple of occasions she had to submit an absentee ballot due to family illness otherwise she appeared at the designated polling place to make her vote count.°

Not only was Mabel a pioneer, but a native of Redmond. Unlike the migratory birds that pass through on the flyways of Washington State, Mabel never desired to go south for the winter to join the Snowbirds.+ Always, her home was on Avondale Road—she was comfortable there, so there she stayed surrounded by family and friends until she died on April 21, 1966.

MEET A MEMBER: D. MARIAN CURRY

Named Della Marian Gillis upon her birth in Minnesota in 1920, Marian was called by her middle name to avoid confusion because her first name was the same as her mother's. During the first years of her life, she lived on a farm with her family until the farm was lost in the early depression in 1927. Marian moved with her family to a city, Balatin, Minnesota, in the southwestern part of the state near the boundaries of Iowa and South Dakota.

For a number of years, her father could find only sporadic part time work, but eventually he was hired to work at Boeing in Seattle where he was remained employed until he retired. During that time Marian together with her eight sisters and two brothers, labored in order to maintain a large garden in their city home that provided fresh vegetables in the summer, and vegetables for canning that could be eaten in the winter. The family remained in Minnesota until each child completed school. School was important, and Marian graduated from Mankato State College. When she arrived with her husband, Von, in Redmond, Marian had a job as a fourth grade teacher while her mate obtained a job with the post office.

Marian met Hazel Kerwin, a Junior Nokomis Club member, who was also a member of the Methodist Church. Hazel became Marian's sponsor for Junior Nokomis membership, and she was accepted into Junior Nokomis Club shortly after her arrival in 1945. The Junior Nokomis club was composed of young women in their twenties and thirties who were being groomed to be Senior Nokomis members. Most of the junior club members still had young children that needed attention, and could not commit a great deal of time to the club. This caused generational friction to develop with the seniors who advised the younger group. Strong leadership soon developed in Junior Nokomis, and the organization became an independent club.

During their short stay in a small apartment, Marian adopted the habit of taking a walk around town from 4 pm to 5 pm, and enjoyed visiting with the friends and neighbors she saw personally on these walks. In a town of 550 people she was able to keep up on all of the town news, and when telephones became prevalent about 1945, she declined to have one because it interrupted her activities. Her remaining leisure time was spent playing golf on at the Carnation Golf Course or the Redmond Golf Course where she enjoyed walking from tee to tee among the towering fir trees alongside babbling Bear Creek. Although her husband continued to inhabit the golf course, Marian's golfing was interrupted by the birth of their first son, Bill.

Advised to build a home, Marian and her husband found a good location at 16511 NE 80th Street, the present location of the Mirage Salon, across the street from the Methodist Church. It was first necessary to cut down the forest existing on the lot before the home could be constructed. Shortly after their new home was completed, Marian and Von became parents of their second child, Sharon, but Bill proved to be a very adventurous and active child. One night after Marian had put him to bed, she went to check on him only to find that he had disappeared. She and her husband started to look for him, and as they opened the front door met their neighbor with Bill in tow. The neighbor had found him in the adjacent woods—Bill had escaped through the window in his bedroom.

The proximity of the Curry's to the Methodist Church proved to be fortuitous as Bill grew older. Because kindergarten was not held in the public schools in 1949, Junior Nokomis sponsored the kindergarten class held at the church.* Bill, at age four, ventured across the street, entered the class with the permission of the teachers, and participated with the other children until Marian arrived to claim him. Bill's energetic activities also attracted the attention of Reverend Aumiller, who began the practice of taking Bill for all-day Saturday excursions to the Kirkland waterfront where they spent the day feeding the ducks.

The Curry's moved their residence in 1950 to the 17400 block of NE 116th Street when a 20-acre tract of property was sold to them by the two bachelor property owners, who desired to relocate. They moved into a 4-room 24' x 24' home which they remodeled by combining two rooms, and built a kitchen and bath addition. They also began construction of a new home which took six years to complete. With the completion of the new home, the Curry's continued to develop a family compound, and eventually Sharon and her family lived in one dwelling on the property while in another, Von's sister, Hazle, and her husband, John Anderson, resided. Hazle Anderson had joined Nokomis in 1935 and was a member until 1986. Active in the club, Hazle was President 1945 to 1947 and 1963 to 1964, and was then Secretary 1970 to 1973. Marian's relationship with Hazle furthered her acquaintance with the senior Nokomis Club.

The Curry's also made substantial improvements to the grounds surrounding the living quarters. They established a park where they enjoyed barbeques and overnight campouts. While the previous property owners had grown 5-acres of strawberries, the Curry's established a large vegetable garden, and they grew beets, carrots, onions, peas, beans, corn, potatoes, cabbage, plus several varieties of squash. They also established an orchard of apple trees, pear trees, prune trees, and blueberry bushes. Marian was generous and gave away much of the fruit produced, but always saved prunes for one of the family's favorite traditional dishes, prune pie with the most delectable flaky crust ever invented.

Christine Himes, who lived across NE 116th Street from the Curry's, recalls the Curry's held a cider-making event in the fall when the apples were ripe. Everyone in the neighborhood was invited including children who could participate in the hands-on production of the cider, and could take home the cider they made if they supplied their own container. Chris felt that handling the machinery involved in producing cider provided meaningful learning experience for everyone—children, teen-agers, and adults alike.

Animals were also grown for food by the Curry's, and they usually had 13 head of cattle and kept about the same number of sheep. Chris Himes recalls her children observed the butchering of the cattle one year, and returned home to comment on how "cool" the procedure was. Marian recounts that one day the cattle got out of the fenced pasture, and were near the road. She saw the cattle from the house window, and went out the door with her arms full of hay. Then she noticed several police officers with their guns drawn advancing toward the cattle, and when the cattle saw Marian carrying the hay, they went running toward the barn ready for their evening meal. Marian was also kept busy as a participant of the Heisdorf and Nelson network of chicken farmers. Twice each year for 15 years, 1,200 six-week old chicks were delivered to them to raise for six months. The young chicks required a good deal of attention to make sure they were kept warm enough under the lights, and Marian reports that only very rarely did they lose one chick.

As her children, that now included two daughters, Sharon and Susan, son, Bill, and a younger son, Jeff, grew older, Marian participated in several activities. She resumed teaching as a substitute, and although she had taught fourth grade, she substituted in a variety of elementary and junior high classes. She also joined the Julia Davis Chapter of Children's Orthopedic Guild, and actively contributed for many years to their projects.

Marian's participation with Nokomis increased and she became president of Junior Nokomis for a term. An active member, she contributed her labor to their ongoing fundraising activities for several years. The junior group raised funds at Bike Derby where they manned a booth that sold pie a la mode until the food sales at the Bike Derby was closed by the health department. They also developed a program of fundraising that prepared lunches for the Lions, Kiwanis, Retired Teachers, members of the Redmond Gun Club, and other groups. They served hamburgers to members of the gun club, but Marian participated in luncheon service for the Lions Club which was held in the large log cabin in Anderson Park, formally named Adair House in 1982. In order to serve the hot lunches, Junior Nokomis donated and installed a complete kitchen in Adair House.+ The Lions Club luncheon service was eventually discontinued by the junior club, and was assumed by the Methodist Church women. As a member of the Methodist Church, Marian continued to serve the Lions luncheons.

Marian subsequently joined Senior Nokomis in 1986, and served as secretary from 1989 to 1991. She managed sales of dishcloths, which were made of a medium weight cream colored thread, and although they appeared to be hand crocheted, they were very durable. She found the dishcloth project to be popular because it was something small, inexpensive, and necessary. The project had begun in 1948, and due to lack of demand was discontinued in 2001.

As a trained teacher, Marian is still interested in the educational development of the younger generation, and has served for several years on the Scholarship Committee. She assists in the review of applications, and with the committee determines the recipient of the annual Nokomis scholarship.

Marian has witnessed population growth in Redmond from about 550 when she arrived in 1945 to 54,144 in 2010.° Not only the Library owns a new home—its seventh—at 15990 NE 85th Street, but in 1997 Town Center Shopping Mall opened on the site of the Redmond Golf Course quieting the ping of golf balls. The changes extend north to NE 116th Street where her 20-acre family compound and farm once existed, mega-mansions now crowd the landscape. Even updated communications have caught up with Marian, she can now be reached by telephone—and even has an e-mail address. But, Marian is still a member of the Nokomis Club where she enjoys the fellowship of sister members for lunch on the last Friday of the month.

MEET A MEMBER: AUDREY GORLICK

The Seattle Times Thursday, July 5, 2007

Volunteer awarded for her service

BY SHERRY GRINDELAND

Audrey Gorlick of Redmond answered the call long before President George W. Bush issued the olea.

In 2002, Bush challenged Americans to volunteer. In 2003, he created the President's Council on Service and Civic Participation. That group issues awards for community service.

Gorlick recently received the group's silver Presidential Service Award.

The mystery is who turned in Gorlick's name. She believes it may be Redmond RSVP folks because the award and two letters of congratulations were sent in care of the Redmond Senior Center.

Through RSVP and the Senior Center—and on her own—she's donated many hours to the Redmond Chamber of Commerce, the library and the old Marymoor Museum of Eastside History. Gorlick led the women's service club, Nokomis, for many years. In the last decade she recruited enough new members to revitalize the group.

About those letters: One congratulated Gorlick for her commitment to volunteerism. The other encouraged her to accumulate 500 hours for a gold award, or to keep serving her neighbors for the 4,000-hour Call To Service Award.

She smiled and dropped her head wearily. Gorlick turned 102 in January.

Audrey Gorlick celebrates her 103rd birthday with Nokomis members on January 29, 2008.

January 2004

To All the Old and New Members of the Nokomis Club.

Saying Thank You seems so inadequate to express my gratitude for your wonderful response in celebrating my 99th Birthday. I looked at you with pride knowing you were the representation of all womanhood—what you have and will achieve in your lifetime toward your fellow men and country.

Nokomis has proven your strength in many ways in the past and will do so into the future and will stand as your flagship to be your guide. I am so proud of all of you.

God's Blessings on all of you, and Thank You.

Audney Gonlick

Reformatted from the original akjm 2011

Through her activities with the Chamber of Commerce, Audrey became acquainted with the Nokomis Club. She joined Nokomis in 1987 at the age of 82, and served as liaison to the library. One day, when the Redmond Library called, she responded to prevent Nokomis documents from being tossed in their garbage bin. With her 50-plus years of experience as an antiques dealer, she recognized the value of the club records, and donated them to the Marymoor Museum. When the Marymoor Museum closed, the Nokomis documents became archived at Eastside Heritage Center where they remain.

As a supporter of educational opportunities for young people, she was a member of the Scholarship Committee for 15 years. Audrey also encouraged her grand-nephew, Richard Hersh, to donate to the Nokomis scholarship fund. His $10,000 donation ensures that a scholarship will be awarded to a graduating Redmond High School senior for several years.

Audrey died on July 4, 2008 at the age of 1031/2.

INMEMORIAM

There are stars that go out in the darkness

But whose silvery light shineth on.

There are roses whose perfume still lingers

When the blossoms are faded and gone.

There are hearts full of light and sweetness

When no longer the life current flows

Still their goodness lives on with the living

Like the living souls of the star and the rose.

DEATH RESOLUTIONS

SOCS SOCI

Whereas, since the organization of Nokomis club, the Great spirit in his infinite understanding has taken from our midst four of our beloved members:

| Mrs. Lenna Huffman | September 2, 1918 |
|-----------------------|--------------------|
| Mrs. May Huffman | November 27, 1920 |
| Mrs. Amanda Lindstrom | September 24, 1928 |
| Mrs. Ella Chatfield | November 22, 1928 |

Whereas these members were earnest workers in our club and by their kindly genial ways endeared themselves to us all therefore be it:

Resolved that in their deaths we have lost four members whose words and deeds will live long in our memories, and be it further

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be entered in our minutes as a memorial to these departed sister members.

Committee: Anna F Perrigo, Anna Johnson, Luella Rosford

8003

Inasmuch as God in his infinite wisdom has removed from our midst, our beloved friend and President, Myrtle Pope, be it resolved by us today to cherish her memory and always remember her sweet smile and friendly greeting in the hope we may some day meet her in that land that knows no pain nor sorrow.

Be it further resolved that this resolution be written in our minutes as a token of our love.

Died 1-11-1938 Respectfully submitted: Agnes Johnson, Mabel Johnson, Lois Wolcker

Also adapted for Clare "Amo" Marr who joined Nokomis 1998; President 2003-2010 Died 2-22-2010

Whereas death has again entered the ranks of Nokomis Club and taken from us our beloved fellow worker. Mrs. Janet Sikes and

Whereas Mrs. Sikes had been a faithful member of Nokomis club since its organization being a charter member therefore be it

Resolved that in her passing we have lost not only a willing club worker but a loved friend, therefore be it

Resolved that in her memory a copy of these resolutions be kept in our records, and a copy sent to the family and to the "Club Woman".

Died 7-1-1939

Respectfully submitted, Anna Perrigo

8003

Since death on November 17, 1952 took from us a beloved member of Nokomis Club, it is only fitting that this tribute to her memory be placed in our minutes.

Dell Woods was a faithful club member for thirty years.

Always faithful in attendance as long as her health permitted.

She was to all a good friend—wise in judgment, faithful in work, ready and wiling to do her part in whatever was to be done for the good of Nokomis. Her smiling face and ready wit is greatly missed by all who knew her.

LIBERTY IS THE OPPORTUNITY TO FULFILL OUR GREATEST CAPACITY

As descendants of great pioneers, who had the courage not only to explore and settle new land but to plant here a great new idea, we have a tremendous responsibility. At a moment in history, when self-government and freedom are challenged, we can demonstrate again the power and truth of the American Way. We stand at the threshold of a new era. As modern pioneers pushing ahead on a thousand frontiers, we can achieve an ever expanding horizon for the life and liberty of our people.

-Nokomis Program 1942-43

RULES OF GOVERNANCE

The formation of an organization is the manifestation of the liberty of the people to assemble peaceably as guaranteed in Article I of the Bill of Rights to the Constitution of the United States. This ability to legitimately organize exposes organizations to the practices expected in a representative democracy, and is representational of the idea that laws are to be understood and obeyed. Obedience to law within a group creates the ability to have procedural order and use parliamentary procedure to address organizational business in order to fulfill the organizational mission in a coherent manner.

At the very first meeting of the Nokomis Club on June 3, 1909, the charter members set out a set of rules for the club members. These written rules stated and regulated the behavioral expectations of the charter members according to the prevailing standards for organizations. As those standards have shifted and evolved, the club constitution reflects the revised standards applicable to members.

Subscription to a set of financial standards administered by the State of Washington began in 1933 when the Redmond Public Library incorporated with nonprofit status. This status was transferred to the Nokomis Club of Redmond, Washington in 1954, and continues to the present time.

ESTABLISHMENT and OPERATION of the LIBRARY

The development of a library in Redmond was considered at several Nokomis meetings before it became a reality. The first mention of the potential project was at the Nokomis meeting on April 28, 1922, but still undergoing the effects of the Spanish Influenza epidemic, the club postponed any decision. Suggested instead on January 20, 1925, is the donation of books to the school library, but again no action is taken. During the meeting of May 28, 1926, members indicate they have raised a sizable amount of funds, and they seek projects that are beneficial to the community. By June 25th suggestions include a library or orthopedic work, and at the September 24, 1926, meeting the only project still under consideration is the establishment of a library. The decision is made by secret ballot at the March 25, 1927, meeting to establish a library, and a committee was appointed to determine a suitable location.

Officers who administered Nokomis Club from 1926 to 1928 and significant in the organization of the library were:

· Lois Wolcker Chief Counsel 1926-28

Mary Dwyer Counsel 1926-28

Charlotte Earnheart
Clerk 1926-27

Evelyn Perrigo Clerk 1927-28

Margaret Buckley Banker 1926-27

Irene Brown Banker 1927-28

During 1926-27, Chief Counsel Lois Wolcker led the club with an enthusiasm that provided inspiration to each member to plan and achieve the library project. Members cooperated on committees to perform the tasks necessary to organize all components of the library. When the library opened on October 29, 1927, it was celebrated by an open house at the library building. Light refreshments were served, and hostesses were Hattie Forrester, Martha Anderson, Minnie Hendricks, and Lizzie Walker. A highlight of the opening was the presentation of a fern donated by the Chamber of Commerce.*

Following is a first person account of the establishment of the library by Maude Quackenbush.

^{*} Quackenbush, Maude McD., The HISTORY of the REDMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY Sponsored by Nokomis Club, Nokomis Archives, Unpublished: 1928.

In the fall of the year 1926, Nokomis club found itself in possession of several hundred dollars as a result of its labors in serving hot lunches at the first Consolidated Grange Fair held that year in Redmond on the old school grounds. After a suitable period had elapsed which gave opportunity for a thorough sifting of opinions and ideas, we find in the minutes of March 25th, 1927, the following notation:

"The question of how to spend our fortune was finally decided by the Club voting to start a library. A committee of Mrs. Anna Perrigo, Mrs. Buckley, Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. Tom Perrigo, was asked to look up suitable locations for a library and report."

Again under date of April 29th, 1927, we find

"Mrs. Anna Perrigo reported on suitable library locations and the Club voted to rent the small building between the Redmond Trading Co. and Mr. Lentz' store, owned by H.S. Reed, for ten dollars per month."

And so the work began. The following month the work went forward in earnest. Mrs. Buckley was made chairman of a general committee which made a house to house canvas in Redmond and vicinity soliciting contributions of books and magazines.

The following committees were appointed to get the library building ready for occupancy.

Co-operation was the key note of that busy summer. It is not possible to record the many hours of unselfish labor performed by these various committees. However each and all felt amply repaid for any effort when the library was finally opened.

BOARD OF LIBRARY CONTROL

The Board of Library Control was established by amendment to the Nokomis Club Constitution on December 30, 1927.

- ➤ Article IV Section 3 of the Constitution reads:
 - "A Board of Library Control consisting of four members shall be elected to have full charge of our Library Department. The first members of this board shall be elected to serve four, three, two years, and one year respectively the successor of each being elected annually to serve for four years. The Board of Library Control shall perfect its own organization and shall submit an annual report to the club. Should an emergency arise, the board may submit any of its problems to the club for consideration."
- A further amendment was added to Article IV Section 3 on January 27, 1928, and stated, "President and Treasurer of Nokomis are ex officio members of the Library Control Board."

LIBRARY LOCATION #1

OCTOBER 29, 1927 to SEPTEMBER 1, 1929

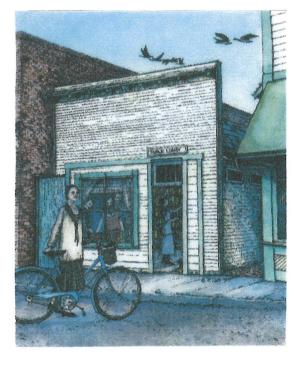

Hours: Wednesday and Saturday 2-5 PM; Tuesday and Thursday 7-9 PM

Redmond Historical Society

White window and door trim on the first building on the left identifies the location of the first Library in the two room storefront rented for $10 per month from Herman Reed, who gave Nokomis three month's credit for painting the exterior. The view in this photo, circa 1930, looks north along Leary Way.

The first Library, busy with patrons selecting from among the over 500 available books, is complete with a patroness arriving on Redmond's symbol, the bicycle, as interpreted by artist Pat Dugan. No photo exists of the Library when it occupied Herman Reed's building.

LIBRARY LOCATION #2

SEPTEMBER 1929 to FEBRUARY 1933

Hours: Tuesday and Thursday 7-8:30 PM; Wednesday 12-4 PM; Saturday 2-4 PM

The Grand Central Hotel, at the northeast corner of Leary Way and Cleveland Street, houses the Library in their big room, spacious enough to meet the demands of increased patronage, and shelving to accommodate the book collection, that expanded in October 1929 with the arrival of the 300 books from the Washington State Traveling Library. Photo circa 1918.

After operating the Library in rented quarters for five years and five months, club members were experienced in Library operations and prepared to maintain a building specifically constructed for the Library. Remarks delivered by Chief Counsel Mabel Johnson at the January 29, 1932, Nokomis meeting expressed the desire to have a library building of their own, and inspired club members to thoroughly investigate the proposal. A Building Committee, composed of Irene Brown, Chair, Mary Dwyer, and Evelyn Perrigo, was appointed at the meeting on February 26 to propose a budget for construction costs which they estimated to be $400.55 ($8,123.15 in 2010 dollars). It was determined that the club would not incur any debt from the project, and the construction of a library building was approved. The Building Committee was also charged with locating an appropriate site. Because of its central location, the donation of property by Irene Brown and her husband, Alfred Nobel Brown, was accepted.

Filed on February 8, 1933, just four days before the dedication of the Library, was the first Warranty Deed (pgs. DW-1a—DW-1b). The Warranty Deed guarantees: 1) the seller (grantor) is the lawful property owner and has the right to sell (convey) the property; 2) the seller (grantor) guarantees the property is free for encumbrances or liens; and 3) the seller (grantor) defends the title so the buyer (grantee) has the power to transfer (convey) the property.*

In order to legally receive and execute the deed, a corporation was formed and a board of trustees organized on behalf of the newly incorporated entity, the Redmond Public Library. The trustees were Irene Brown, Ada Huffman, and Lena Ottini, and their first act dated February 24, 1933, was to sign an agreement to form a corporation named Redmond Public Library (pgs. INC-1—INC-3).

Meanwhile, the Library building was completed and with the effort of the members working together in committees, painting, moving, cleaning, drapery, entertainment, and dedication, the members prepared for the building dedication on February 12, 1933, that was complete with an address given by Mayor Bill Brown. A highlight of the dedication ceremony was the placement of a Historical Sketch of the Nokomis Club by June Bartow in the building cornerstone.

The Library opened to public in its new location on March 1, 1933, but the legal documents in support of the new Library were just beginning to be filed. As a signer of the initial agreement to form a corporation, Irene Brown delivers a notice to convene a meeting of the other trustees for March 4, 1933 (pg. INC-4). Prior to the meeting the fee required to obtain incorporation status was paid (pg. DF-1), and the Articles of Incorporation for the Redmond Public Library was issued on March 15, 1933 (pgs. INC-5—INC-6).

At the March 4th meeting officers Ada Huffman, President, Irene Brown, Vice-president, and Lena Ottini, Secretary-Treasurer were selected, and By-laws were determined. The minutes of the corporation record that on March 20th the trustees took an oath of office to faithfully and impartially discharge duties as a trustee (pgs. INC-7—INC-10).

The Trustees accepted on March 20th several documents (pg. INC-13) beginning with property Quit Claim Deeds #2752936 and #2752937 that sell to the Redmond Public Library for $1 the two parcels of property for the Library (pgs. DQ-2a—DQ-2b). These Quit Claim Deeds "transfer (convey) to the buyer and buyer's heirs, and assign in fees all of the legal or equitable rights the seller (grantor) has in the property that existed at the time of the transfer (conveyance)."* Transferred to the Redmond Public Library for $1 each are the two parcels of property with the clause that the purpose of the transfer is a "gift with the understanding the property is to be used for public library purposes, and if the property is used for another purpose "the title shall revert to the seller (grantor)" (pgs. DQ-3a—DQ-4b).+ The property is then conveyed to the Irene Brown, Ada Huffman, and Lena Ottini as trustees of Redmond Public Library who then transfer the property to the Redmond Public Library (pgs. DQ-5a—DQ-5b).

The President and Secretary of Nokomis Club assign by Bill of Sale to the Redmond Public Library "all books, magazines, equipment, furniture, furnishings, and personal property" of the public library in Redmond, Washington (pgs. BS-1a—BS-1b). This document is also accepted by the Trustees, and they agree to rent the library building for $1 per year (pg. INC-14). The Trustees then request exemption that is granted to libraries from the federal taxes (pgs. CE-1a—CE-1e).

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Prepared by Mrs. June Bartow, and read at the formal dedication of the Redmond Public Library, corner of Kirkland Ave and Cedar St., on February 12th, 1933.

This is an exact copy of the first minutes of the Nokomis Club:

Redmond, Wash.

"A number of the ladies were requested to meet at the home of Mrs. W. B. Williams, on Wednesday, June 3, 1909; the purpose of which was to organize some form of club. We there organized, named and also constructed the Laws and By-laws of the Nokomis Club.

The officers of the club were chosen as follows:

| Co | ommander-in-Chief Mrs. C. W. Huffman |
|----|--------------------------------------|
| Ch | tiefMrs. W. B. Williams |
| Cl | erk Hayes Huffman |
| Ba | nker Mrs. Wm. Forrester |
| Ac | Ivocate Mrs. Ernest Adams |
| Δt | tendant Miss Mahel Adams" |

Thus a group of seven or eight women started a small club which has grown until the membership is limited to thirty-five ladies.

On thru the years they worked. New members were admitted; old ones moved away, but always the members were striving to do good.

From the minutes, thru the years, we find them improving the school grounds, paying insurance on the church, and lending a helping hand wherever one was needed.

To the members of Nokomis club of the years 1926 and 1927 is due the credit of laboring faithfully and well to perfect the plan of giving to Redmond its own Library with all its attendant benefits.

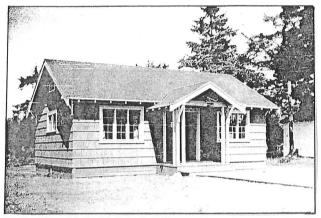

Ever striving, ever looking forward, during the term of Mabel P. Johnson, as President, 1931-32, we were urged to build our own Library building. This at first looked impossible, with the amount of funds on hand and not wishing to go into debt, was almost rejected but through the untiring efforts of the Building Committee appointed Irene Brown, Chairman, Mary Dwyer, and Evelyn Perrigo—facts and figures were brought to us showing us that we could build with the available funds.

Then a location was next. Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sikes offered lots. The Brown lot was accepted as it was the better located. Finally the building was at last started

FIRST MEETING OF SUBSCRIBERS

OF

REDMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY

Redmond, Washington
March 4, 1933

On this 4th day of March 1933, pursuant to notice, there was convened a meeting of those who had on February 24, 1933, entered into an agreement to form the Redmond Public Library as a corporation under Sections 3872 to 3883 of the Code of the State of Washington.

There were present all of those who had signed the said agreement.

There was presented to the meeting an affidavit of the giving of notice of this meeting, and the same was approved and ordered spread upon the record and is in this minute book as Page _______ thereof and is by this reference made a part hereof.

Secretary. was chosen as temporary

The following were unanimously elected to the offices indicated:

MEETING OF TRUSTEES

OF

REDMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY

Redmond, Washington
March 20, 1933

Pursuant to due and timely notice the meeting of Trustees of Redmond Public Library was convened this day at Redmond, Washington, and there were present:

TRUSTEES: Irene Brown

Ada Huffman

Lena Ottini

This constituted all the members of the Board and each of those present expressed her approval of the notice and her consent for the holding of a meeting for the transaction of any business.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that the Oath of Office had been signed by each of the trustees and that it was in this MinuteBook as Page _/6_ thereof and the same is by this reference made a part hereof.

It was reported to the meeting that the Certifiate of Incorporation had been filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Washington; that his receipt for the filing fee is in this Minute Book as Page (3 thereof and is by this reference made a part hereof; and that his certificate is in this Minute Book as Page (44 thereof and is by this reference made a part hereof.

It was reported further that the Certificate of Incorporation had been filed with the King County Auditor and that his receipt for the filing fee is in this Minute Book as Page /5 thereof, and is by this reference made a part hereof.

It appeared from the records of the corporation that the three (3) signers of the original agreement are members of this corporation and that no other persons have been admitted to membership and accordingly it was found and declared that the members of this corporation at this time are the following:

MEMBERS: Irene Brown

Ada Huffman

Lena Ottini.

The By-Laws stipulate that the trustees may admit new members, but it was determined by the Board to take no steps in that direction at this time but to defer such matters to the future.

There were presented to the meeting two (2) deeds both conveying to this corporation the property which constituted the Redmond Library and copies of the said deeds were ordered spread upon the record and are in this Minute Book as Pages 20 to 2/ thereof and are by this reference made a part hereof.

The following resolution was presented to the meeting and unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED, that the deeds which have just been presented to this meeting as gifts to this corporation are accepted and the officers of this corporation are directed to cause the same to be recorded and to enter into possession of the premises described, for and on behalf of this corporation.

There was presented to the meeting as a gift the bill of sale of books and personal property in the Redmond Library and a copy thereof was ordered spread upon the records and is in this Minute Book as Page 22 thereof and is by this reference made a part hereof.

The following resolution was presented to the meeting and unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the bill of sale which has just been presented to this corporation as a gift be accepted and that the officers of this corporation take posession of said personal property and record the said bill of sale for and on behalf of this corporation.

· It seemed best that the organization which has heretofore been operating the Redmond Public Library be permitted to continue the same and accordingly the following resolution was presented to the meeting and unanimously adopted:

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the Motorus.

Club shall be permitted to lease the Redmond Library and its contents on a month to month tenancy for a rental at the rate of $1.00 per year with the further consideration that all books or other personal property which shall be added to the said library or its equipment shall forthwith and immediately belong to the corporation and the officers of this corporation are authorized to make such an arrangement orally, or in writing should they deem it expedient.

There being no further business to come before the meeting it was adjourned.

ASSESSOR

LAWS GOVERNING EXEMPTIONS

Proof Required At the time of making the assessment of real property, the assessor shall enter each description of property exempt under the provisions of Section Seven of this act, and value and list the same in the manner and subject to the same rule as he is required to assess all other property, designating in each case to whom such property belongs, and for what purpose used, to entitle it to exemption. AND HE SHALL REQUIRE FROM EVERY PERSON CLAIMING SUCH EXEMPTION PROOF OF THE RIGHT TO SUCH EXEMPTION. (L. '25 E. S., ch. 130, sec. 9, p. 235.)

Penalty for Giving False or Fraudulent List If any person or corporation shall give a FALSE or FRAUDULENT list, schedule or statement required by this act, or shall fail or refuse to deliver to the assessor, when called on for that purpose, a list of the taxable personal property which he is required to list under this act, he or it SHALL BE LIABLE TO A PENALTY OF NOT LESS THAN TEN DOLLARS NOR MORE THAN TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS, to be recovered in any proper form of action in the name of the State of Washington on the complaint of any person, such fine, when collected, to be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the current expense fund. (L. '25 E. S., ch. 130, sec. 51, p. 259.)

Exemptions

The following property, to the extent herein limited, shall be exempt from taxation:

THE CLUBHOUSE ADDITION

The dark wooded wall and expanded roofline on the right indicate the extent of the Clubhouse addition to the Library completed in November 1937. Roy Buckley took this photo in 1939.

A special meeting was held on January 20, 1936, to make a determination on the construction of a social hall possibly with Works Progress Administration (WPA) labor. At that meeting a proposal was made, but those in attendance felt the building would be too small. A committee of five was appointed to report at the regular meeting January 31, and they proposed building an addition with an entry hall; social room 22' x 38'; kitchen 10' x 15'; and 2 restrooms 6' x 9'. The estimated cost was $1,050, and included plumbing, wiring, and fireplace. The committee's report was overwhelmingly accepted.

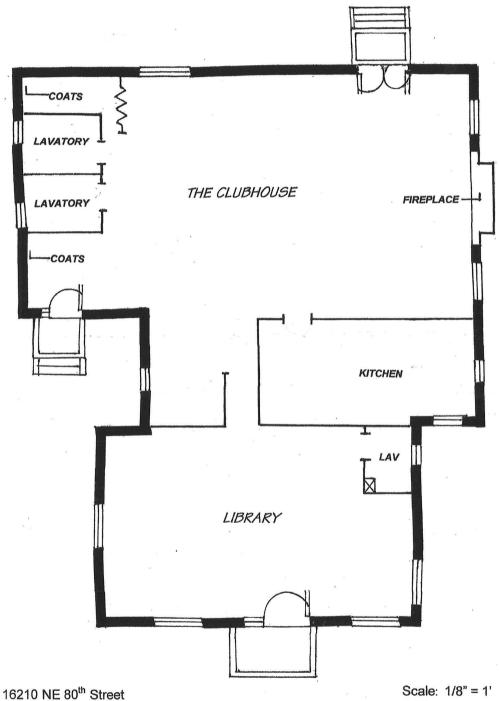

In September 1936 the club approved the purchase of the property adjacent to the Library from Irene and Fred Brown for $50. By March 1937 construction was well under way, and Nokomis made a payment of $200 on their note with Columbia Lumber Company. The new social hall was named The Clubhouse formally at the May 28th meeting, and was inaugurated at the Businessmen's Dinner served on Tuesday, November 2nd, 1937.

The Library Trustees on November 23, 1937 mortgaged the Library for $1,200 with the First National Bank of Redmond to pay construction costs. The first Nokomis meeting in the Clubhouse was held November 26th, and during the meeting, rental rates were determined at $1 for members for regular meetings; $3 for afternoon parties; and $5 for evening entertainment. The new facility could accommodate 100 people, and was available for rental by individuals, community, and church groups.

In 1938 it was noted that the city had not returned the deed needed to qualify for WPA assistance. By the November 27, 1942 club meeting, the clubhouse mortgage was paid in full and the note was passed to Irene Brown, who participated with the members in a burning ceremony.

NOKOMIS BUILDING

Floor Plan 1933 - 1972

Redmond, Washington

Scale: 1/8" = 1' ZN

Construction of a social hall provided the Nokomis Club with the opportunity to collect additional revenue to support the public library operations. Rental of the hall, and expansion of dinner service from one to four groups provided financial support for the public library operations and maintenance costs for the building. The collection of additional funds also enabled the club to pay the incorporation fee (pg. INC-15).

Dated on November 20, 1936 and filed on December 2, 1936 is the Warranty Deed that transferred additional property adjacent to the Library to the Nokomis Club for a payment of $10 (pgs. DW2a—DW2b). The Warranty Deed transferred the property by the lawful property owner without liens or encumbrances, and transfers the right of the buyer to sell the property. This additional property allowed the construction of the Clubhouse, and the location of a parking lot behind the Library/Clubhouse building.

Even though the country was still in the Great Depression, the club did not hesitate to mortgage the property in order to build the new addition. The Trustees of the Redmond Public Library met on November 23, 1937, and drafted a resolution to mortgage the Nokomis property with The First National Bank of Redmond, Washington, for the sum of $1,200 (INC-16—INC-17 & REM-1—REM-3). As evidenced by the liabilities listed on Internal Revenue Service Form 990 that request exemption from federal taxes for the year 1941, Nokomis owed $200 on the mortgage in 1941 (pgs. CE-2a—CE-2b). The mortgage was paid in total by November 27, 1942—five years from the date the property was mortgaged.

Returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which is located the principal place of business or principal office of the organization.

HISTORY OF THE REDMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY

Redmond Public Library, sponsored by Nokomis club, was formally opened to the public on October 29th, 1927. It was housed in the tiny building lying between the Redmond Trading Company and the E. O. Lentz store.

At that time there were about eight hundred books on the shelves. Of these, three hundred were loaned us by the Washington State Traveling Library. The remainder were donated by friends and various social and fraternal organizations of Redmond.

The duties of Librarian were then, as now, voluntarily performed by members of Nokomis Club.

The first month ninety-five cards were issued and five hundred sixty-seven books loaned.

The first Board of Library control consisted of Lois Wolcker, Agnes Johnson, Evelyn Perrigo, and Flora Walker.

After two years in that building, the library was moved into larger quarters in the Grand Central Hotel Building, where it remained for three years.

Sometime during 1932 it was decided to construct our own Library Building on a site presented to the Club by Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Brown and on February 12th, 1933, we dedicated our present building.

The Building Committee which guided the successful completion of the new building was composed of Irene Brown, Mary Dwyer, and Evelyn Perrigo.

We now have on the shelves three thousand eight hundred and ninety books, and serve one thousand four hundred patrons.

During 1940 the total number of books loaned was seven thousand six hundred ten.

Maude Quackenbush (1940)

Two events occurred in 1942 that impacted the administration of the Library. The first was the death of Ada Trimble Leeper Huffman who had served as a Trustee since the incorporation of the Library. The remaining Trustees, Irene Brown and Lena Ottini, appointed Mabel Perrigo Johnson to fill the vacancy left by her death (pg. INC-18).

The second event had a much greater though delayed effect on the Library. The voters of King County established the King County Rural Library District in the election of 1942. The purpose of the district was to provide library services to people in "rural" areas that were distant from any library service. With the creation of the district, a maximum tax on property of $50 \rlap/e$ per \$1,000 assessed valuation in the unincorporated areas could be levied to provide base funding for the libraries. Contracts with cities and towns for library sevice also supplied funds for the operation of the King County Rural Library District.*

Library representatives met with the Nokomis Club in August of 1946 to discuss the possibility of the Redmond Library joining the King County Rural Library District. Miss McDowell and Miss Sealoff from the rural library district met with the club at their regular meeting on the 30th, and presented a description of library activities and benefits to rural communities. At the September 27th meeting Mrs. Nelson, Member, Board of Trustees, King County Rural Library District, explained the library situation in Fall City and Snoqualmie, and detailed how the library district managed the libraries within those two communities.

The Nokomis members on October 25th gave approval for the rural library district to administer the library for one year. According to anecdotal evidence, several meetings occurred with the officials of the Town of Redmond before agreement was reached with the town to contract with the rural library district.+ The minutes of the Town Council dated December 4, 1946, record the approval to contract with the King County Rural Library District for Library purposes to begin on January 1, 1947 (pg. RC-1).

When the Library opened for business on January 1, 1947, the new Librarian was Mamie Orr, a member of the Nokomis Club who had joined in 1922. Librarian Orr reported to the club that 278 cards were issued and 1,098 items were loaned by January 31st. Pleased with the administration by the rural library district, the club in January 1948 requested the rural library district continue management of the Library for another three years, and the Board of Library Control in August 1948 donated all of the books owned by the Nokomis Club to the library district with the exception of the memorial books.

Some books are to be tasted, Others to be swallowed, and Some few to be chewed and digested.

King County Public Library Scattle. Washington

Attention: Miss Ella McDowell, Librarian

The Library Board of the Nokowis Club, at a meeting August 26th, voted to turn over to the King County Public Library all of the books new ewned by the Nekomis dlub, with the exception of the Memorial books.

It is understood that the King County Public Library will return to the Club those books which it does not wish to catalog, and that the remaining books will become a part of the King County Public Library collection.

If any of the books can be used by the Redmond Fublic Library they will be returned there for use as long as needed.

A copy of this letter is being sent to the City Council of Redmond.

HOKOMIS CLUB

Although the population of Redmond in 1950 was 573, patronage of the Redmond Library continued to expand. Circulation figures for 1952 indicated a total of 14,268 items were loaned. In order to meet reader demand, the Library was moved into the Clubhouse area of the Nokomis Building in late December 1952 to accommodate the collection of 6,000 books available to readers.*

The population of Redmond grew to 1,426 in 1960, and by 1964 additional space was needed for the Library that now housed 17,000 volumes. The library system decided to move to 16425 NE 80th Street in May, and for the first time in 37 years the Nokomis Club no longer had any library responsibilities. A committee of members was formed that provided volunteer labor for the many tasks involved in the operation of a library with a circulation of almost 46,000 items.+

In response to a 1966 letter from the Librarian, Helen Cotterill, the club agreed to host National Library Week held in April each year. The Nokomis Club continued to host National Library Week for several years.

In recent years the Nokomis Club has supported the Library by donating funds for the purchase of books in memory of a deceased Nokomis member. Contributions to the Library's book collection include such titles as Our Town, Redmond, Ring Out the Bells, Nature Diary, and The History of Valentines.

Celebrated by the King County Library System and by the club is the founding of the Library on October 29, 1927. In commemoration of that event the library system installed a bronze plaque in 2003 on the right wall at the west library entrance.

Honoring the women who served as the first Redmond librarians, Women of Vision, was donated to the library by the Nokomis Club to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the club on June 3, 1909. The fused glass artwork by John Tapert incorporates a 1932 photo of Nokomis members, and is located on the brick wall at the east library entrance.

Books are men's hearts in other men's hands.

Mrs. Lewis, President

Nokomis Club

Redmond, Wash.

Dear President::

In reply to the Nokomis Clubs generous offer to render a service to the library, I would like to make the following suggestions:

As it is customary for libraries to commemorate National Book

Week with an open house It would be beneficial to our community should the Nokomis Club assume the responsibility of this annual April event. This function would slsc serve as a reminder to the people of our area of the great service the Nokomis Club had so willingly and capably performed for so many years.

We also have a great need for a history of our city. King County library will be willing to assist with this project should the club be interested in collecting the material.

Your interest in the library will be appreciated by many.

Respectfully yours

Librarian

Alelen lottinell

Our Library, 39 years old, observes its week

National Library Week has special significance for Redmond, for several reasons. Few cities can claim such a long and interesting history for their library.

And even fewer cities are able to point to such a highlyrated, thriving facility.

Redmond owns up to both. and will proudly celebrate National Library Week next Tuesday afternoon with an Open House at the library. Tuesday hours are 1-9 p.m.

Hosting the Open House will be members of the Redmond Nokomis Club, oldest club on the Eastside and pioneers of the library in Redmond.

Mrs. Lena Ottini of Redmond, who has been a member of Nokomis for 56 years. remembers how the library came into being.

Faced with the problem of what to do with money raised from sponsoring community functions, the club decided to start a library, she recalls.

It opened in 1927, in a little shop that used to stand between what are now the Outboard Center and Redmond Floors on Leary Way.

Rent then was $10 a month. Today rent of the library building runs to over $200 a month.

The library opened with 800 volumes. Last year's circulation at the Redmond Library was almost 46,000.

Two subsequent moves saw the library take up residence in the Nokomis building next to the post office in February, 1933. There it enjoyed a long and successful stay until its eventual move to the present building in May, 1964. And still the library refuses to stop growing. Last year it received the highest rating in King County by the County Library system.

Second only to the Kent Library in increase in cir-culation last year, Redmond was among eight out of the 41 county libraries that showed any increase at all. Circulation here jumped from 43,400 to almost 46,000.

Much of the credit for such an outstanding increase must go to the capable and friendly administration of the library by Librarian Mrs. Helen Cotterill.

Mrs. Cotterill has kept a file on the history of the li-brary, which illustrates how closely it has always been allied with the Nokomis Club.

It is altogether appropriate that the club should be in charge of the Open House Tuesday. Club members will be serving coffee to visitors.

Rummaging in old club records, Mrs. Ottini came up with the names of the Nokomis ladies still in Redmond who had a hand in the founding of had a nand in the founding of the first library.

They are: Lena Ottini, Mary Skjarstad, Selma Tin-glestad, Irene Brown, Mamie Orr, Margaret Buckley, Syl-via Neslund, Alice Swenson, Mahal Johnson Mabel Johnson, Anna Johnson, and Audrey Johnson. All still belong to the club.

Other ladies no longer members are Grace Thomas, Agnes Johnson, Margaret Boyd, and Amelia Olofson.

Also part of the Open House will be a Story Time for school children five years and older. Starting at 4 p.m. it will be conducted by Agnes Griffin, juvenile librarian for the County Library system.

Use your library. You don't even need to have a card anymore.

THE PAST AND PRESENT of the Redmond Library are represented by Mrs. Lena Ottini (right) and Mrs. Helen Cotterill, librarian. The library owes its founding to Mrs. Ottini (who helped pioneer it in Redmond(in 1927) and its present excellence to Mrs. Cotterill, under whose administration the library has come to rank as one of the most popular in King County. The two "ilbrarians" here recall the past among old records of the Redmond Nokomis Club. Open House will be celebrated Tuesday, during National Library Week.

REDMOND LIBRARY*

The Redmond Library is a regional library serving east and north-east King County. More than a million items a year are checked out of the Redmond Library. Approximately 480,000 patrons visited the library last year.

A work honoring the women of Nokomis and the founding mothers of the library would be an appropriate piece of art for the library and would educate a great number of people. I'm sure that most people who use public libraries in this country are unaware that the public library movement was started by various women's organizations. When Carnegie made matching funds available to cities and towns across the country, it was almost always a women's group pressing town fathers to apply.

Dedication & Celebration of "Nokomis Women of Vision"

Saturday, March 7, 2009 11am Redmond Regional Library Redmond, WA

"The Nokomis Club of Redmond, in celebration of 100 years of service to the community, presents this picture to honor the women of vision who founded Redmond's first public library in 1927, built a library building in 1933 and funded and operated the library until it joined the King County System in 1947."

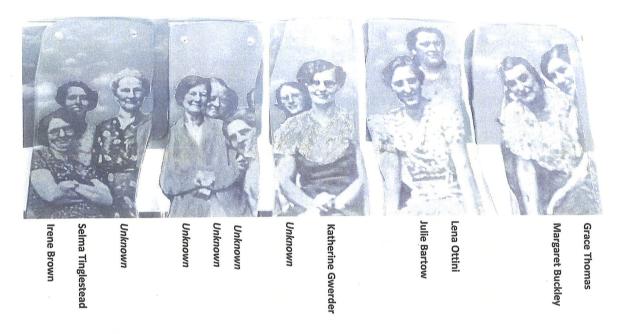

For the "Nokomis Women of Vision" project, Mr. Tapert used digital technology to convert a vintage photograph of the twelve Nokomis founders into a 20" X 50" colored painting with photographic qualities. Using computer technology, the black and white snapshot was taken apart pixel by pixel, restored and carefully reassembled. It was then painted and manipulated in impressionistic color and 22K gold. The resulting photo painting was imbedded into inch-thick slabs of softened glass.

Through this process, the colors and the depicted subjects come to life. The gold background reflects light through the brightly rendered homemade dresses and the twelve visionaries float weightlessly in a sea of heavenly clouds. They break through threatening skies to reveal a bright and positive future.

Mr. Tapert sees the Redmond Regional Library space as a perfect environment to showcase this unique glass image and is pleased to present this work in tribute to the Nokomis women of vision and to honor their lasting contribution to the community.

Who were the Nokomis Women of Vision?

One hundred years ago, Redmond was a rugged logging village. Books and quiet time for reading were a luxury that few could afford. But a pioneering group of women believed that reading and the opportunity to explore ideas beyond those of daily life were important to the growth and development of a civil society. In 1909, twelve of these women sat down together. They named themselves "The Nokomis Club", after the grandmother in Longfellow's epic "Song of Hiawatha" and began meeting monthly to share books and eventually create and run their village's first public library.

At first, they operated the library out of their homes. In 1927, a library was established in the Redmond Trading Company building on Leary Way (then the main street of the town). In 1933, the library moved into larger quarters, to what is now the Redmond Chamber of Commerce building on NE 80th Street. The Nokomis Club continued to finance and staff that library until January 1947, when the city joined the then-fledgling King County Rural Library District.

As the community grew, so did the library. It moved into a larger space in 1961 and again in 1975. Finally, in November 1999, the King County Library System opened the new 30,000-square-foot Redmond Regional Library on the corner of NE 85th and 160th Ave NE. At that opening ceremony, one of the ribbon cutters was Helen Usibelli, daughter of one of the original members of Nokomis.

In 2008, the Redmond Regional Library welcomed an average of 40,000 people very month and circulated over 920,000 items during the year. The vision of the Nokomis Club has been truly realized and the current library stands in tribute to their vision and civic ideals.

REACQUISITION OF THE PROPERTY TITLE

Until the Town of Redmond contracted with the King County Rural Library District in December 1946, the town supported the Library with a stipend of $100 per year. The Nokomis Club furnished all librarians, paid utilities, provided janitorial service, and all other maintenance costs including building upkeep and equipment replacement. Once the town contracted with the library district, the town paid the Librarian's salary, but paid no building rental, utilities, or janitorial fees that would assist the club in defraying maintenance expenses (AFR-I).

Over time the building maintenance and equipment replacement costs became a burden to the Nokomis Club. By 1952 Irene Brown reported to the club at the September meeting that she had met with the Town Council, and an agreement had been reached to turn the building over to the town. At the October club meeting Irene indicated that the deal with the town was stymied, but the town had budgeted funds to pay the utilities. However, the club received correspondence from the Town Clerk that not only reneged on the offer to pay utilities but also accused the club of using nonexistent utility connections (TC-1). There was no further discussion with the town until April 1954 when the Town Council expressed an interest in leasing the library and paying all expenses. The club in September informed the Town Council that rent for the Library room is $600 per year, but the request was never acknowledged.

Meanwhile, since the Nokomis Club no longer had administrative responsibility for the Library, the Trustees of the Redmond Library took steps in April 1954 to update the titles to the Library/Clubhouse property. The title modification empowered the club to make legal decisions relevant to the Library/Clubhouse property when it was changed from the "Corporation of Redmond Public Library" to "Nokomis Club of Redmond Incorporated" (INC-19—INC-22). In order to confirm ownership, copies of the property deeds (DW-3a—DQ-8) were obtained from the King County Auditor in the review performed by the attorney, Alice O'Leary Ralls, who was hired to ensure all document revisions were in the proper legal order (INC-23). In addition recorded in the King County Assessor's Office by the Work Progress Administration (WPA) was a Property Record Card detailing building size and ceiling type, type of construction, interior wall covering, floor type, plumbing, wiring, and heating (PRC-1).* First recorded in 1937 with the last notation in 1973, the card indicates the legal change of name on August 14, 1956. (PRC-2)

The Town on February 24, 1955, recorded with the King County Auditor a lease agreement that had been signed by the Library Trustees on May 1, 1940. The lease was a result of giving the Nokomis property deed to the Town of Redmond in order to gain Works Progress Administration (WPA) labor for the construction of the Clubhouse. The Judge, Fred A Reil, who was also the Town Clerk, ruled it was legally impossible to change the deed when the Library Trustees had presented the case to him (L-1—L-3).

The Nokomis Board Members met with the Town Council and Mr. Gay and Mr. Harper, both attorneys on November 30, 1955 to seek an agreement on the disposition of the Nokomis Building with the town. According to the town, the most practical solution would be to give the Town of Redmond clear title to the property with the provision that the town maintain the buildings and grounds, and the property shall always be retain for club, library, and civic purposes. If the building should be inadequate and a new building erected on the premises, the same provisions shall apply. Mr. Gay was instructed to draw up papers to show cause on why a clear title should be given to the Town of Redmond, and the reasons why it should always be reserved for civic purposes and one room and the kitchen should be reserved for Nokomis use.

The resolution was read at the Nokomis December meeting, and changed to read: Nokomis Club accepts resolutions, but changes them to: the premises are not to be sold or exchangeable at any time, but is to be kept always as a memorial to the Nokomis Club women, and this particular property shall be retained exclusively for club, library, community assembly, and other civic purposes, and let it be stated that the kitchen equipment is the property of Nokomis Club and is not included in the deed. If another building is erected the same provisions will apply. We also demand immediate repairs. In March 1956 the Mayor indicated he would notify the club as soon as the revised documents were ready, but when it was presented to the club in April, the proposal was rejected.

During the course of the next several months, the Nokomis Club conferred with the Mayor, the Town Council, and two attorneys in order to determine a course of action that would obtain a clear title to the Library/Clubhouse property. On December 5, 1957, Nokomis Club representatives, Dorothea Trippett and Lena Ottini, met in a special session with Mayor Gary Graep and the Town Council, Selwyn (Bud) Young, Joe Melquist, Margaret Boyd, and Harold Everson.

Lena Ottini presented the summation to the Mayor and Town Council outlining the fact that the deed to the Nokomis property was given to the Town of Redmond in order to obtain Work Progress Administration (WPA) assistance in construction of the Clubhouse since no private organization could employ WPA labor. It was understood that when the work was completed, the property, clear of the mortgage, would revert to the Nokomis Club. Instead, a 99-year lease was signed with the Town of Redmond, and when the Library Trustees had appeared before him, Judge Reil ruled that it was legally impossible to change the deed (L-1—L-3). The Town of Redmond had no record of a deed or deed in their possession, and because the Trustees did sign a lease, the title is clouded. Dorothea Trippett stated that in a similar situation with a ladies club in Enumclaw, the situation was resolved by instituting a friendly suit with the city.

A special meeting of the Nokomis Club was held on December 11th to report on the meeting with the Mayor and Town Council. The club voted to institute a friendly suit against the city to regain clear title to the property, and it was understood that the club would accept the final decision of the attorneys. A law suit was filed in Superior Court for the State of Washington in King County, and was heard before Judge Theodore Turner on March 20, 1958 (S-1, S-2). The Plaintiff was the Nokomis Club of Redmond (PL-1—PL-4) while the Defendants were the Town of Redmond, Alfred N Brown and Irene Brown. Judge Turner ruled that the "purported lease" was null and void, and the property title belonged to the Nokomis Club of Redmond free of any and all claims (JN-1, J-1, J-2).

As the club completed their review of the document modifications they had undertaken, in 1965 they filed a request for tax exemption with the Internal Revenue Service. The club was notified that providing operations continues as proposed in the original application, the exemption granted on November 1, 1934 under the former name, Redmond Public Library, is modified to the revised name of the Nokomis Club of Redmond, Washington. (CE-3).

TOWN of REDMOND

REDMOND, WASHINGTON

September 24th 1953.

Senior Nokomis Club, Redmond, Washington,

The State Examiner after examining the books of the Town of Redmond some time ago, informed us, it was illegal for the Town to pay for heat, power and light, and furnish the Club with water without charging therefore.

The Mayor has talked to some club members personally about this, and asked me to inform the club that if not done so as yet, the fuel line and wiring must be disconnected from the Library by October I, 1953.

Respectfully Yours,

Town Clerk.

LEASE

W. 5

THIS INDENTURE made this _____ day of April, 1940 between TOWN OF REDMOND, a municipal corporation, as Lessor, and REDMOND PUBLIC LIBRARY, as Lessee, WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS the Lessor is the owner of the following described real estate situated in King County, Washington, towit:

Beginning at a point 30 feet North and 526.2 feet West of section corner common to Sections 1-2 and 11-12 in Township 25 North, Range 5 East W.M.; thence West 50 feet; thence North 193.7 feet; thence East 50 feet; thence South 193.7 feet to place of beginning;

upon which real estate is located a building used as a public library and community assembly room for the Town of Redmond; and

WHEREAS for a long time past said public library and assembly room have been maintained and cared for by the Lessee herein; and

WHEREAS by resolution duly adopted by the Town Council of the Town of Redmond the Mayor and Clark have been authorized to enter into a lease of said property for a period of ninety-nine years with the said Lessee;

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the said resolution, the Lessor does by these presents lease and demise unto the said Lessee and the said Lessee does hereby hire and take from the said Lessor the above described premises with the buildings situated thereon for the term of ninety-nine (99) years from the first day of May, 1940 to the 31st day of April, 2039, at an annual rental of One Dollar ($1.00), payable yearly in advance on the first day of each and every May.

It is understood and agreed that the Lessee shall use the said premises only for library and community assembly purposes and for such allied community purposes as shall from time to time develop, and that the said premises shall in no way be used for the financial profit of the Lessee except as such financial profit shall be reinvested in betterment of the premises or in the purchase failure to file an answer or other response to a summons or complaint in a lawsuit. After a certain period has passed, the plantiff may ask the court for a default judgment, which means the defendant who failed to respond loses the case.

DEFINITION OF LEGAL TERMS*

summary judgment

A final decision by a judge, upon a party's motion that resolves a lawsuit before there is a trial. The party making the motion marshals all the evidence in it's favor, compares it to the opposition, and argues there are no "triable findings of fact". A summary judgment is awarded if the undisputed facts and the law make it clear that it would be impossible for the opposing party to prevail if the matter were to proceed to trial.

NO. _____

Defendants.

COMES NOW the plaintiff and for cause of action against the defendants alleges:

I

Plaintiff, Nokomis Club of Redmond, is now and was at all times material hereto a Washington corporation having paid all license and fees due to the State of Washington.

11

That defendant Town of Redmond is a muncipal corporation of the fourth class situated in King County, Washington.

TII

That defendants Alfred N. Brown and Irene Brown, his wife, are residents of Redmond, King County, Washington.

N

That plaintiff has made diligent efforts to determine the ages, residences and addresses of all other defendants named herein and their unknown heirs, grantees, devises, survivors and assigns and has been unable to locate any of said defendants in any manner.

That plaintiff is the ower in fee and has possession of the following described lands and premises situated in King

County, Washington, To Wit:

That certain portion of the Southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section two (2), township 25 N. Range 5 east, W. M. described as follows:

Commencing at a point 30 feet north and 526.2 feet West of the section corner common to Section 1, 2, 11 and 12 in Township 25 North, Range 5 East, W. M.; thence west 50 feet; thence north 193.7 feet; thence East 50 feet; thence south 193.7 feet to point of beginning.

VI

That prior to March, 1954, plaintiff corporation was named and incorporated as the Redmond Public Library. That in March, 1954 the said Redmond Public Library, a Washington corporation amended its Articles of Incorporation to change its name to Nokomis Club of Redmond, said amendment filed with the Secretary of State, State of Washington on March 20, 1954. That in all other respects and interests plaintiff is the same entity as the former Redmond Public Library.

VII

Plaintiff acquired its interest in said lands and premises under and by a number of deeds set forth hereinafter chronologically.

- 1) Warranty deed from Alfred N. Brown and Irene Brown, his wife, to Irene Brown, Ada Huffman, and Lena Ottini, and their successors as trustees of the Redmond Public Library, dated January 5, 1933, and recorded February 8, 1933 in the office of the auditor of King County, Washington, in Volume 1543 of Deeds, page 113, under No. 2749257.
- 2) Statutory quit claim deed from Irene Brown, Ada Huffman and Lena Ottini, as trustees of the Redmond Public Library to Redmond Public Library, a corporation, dated March 20, 1933, and recorded March 21, 1933, in the King Gounty Auditor's office in Volume 1537 of Deeds, page 558, as No. 2752936.
- 3) Statutory Quit claim deed from Alfred N. Brown and Irene Brown, his wife, to Redmond Public Library, a corporation, dated March 20, 1933 and recorded March 21, 1933 in the office of the Auditor of King County in Volume 1533 of Deeds, page 526, as No. 2752937.
- 4) Warranty deed from A. N. Brown and Irene W. Brown, his wife, to Redmond Public Library, a corporation, dated November 20, 1936 and recorded December 2, 1936, in the office of the Auditor of King County, Washington, in Volume 1710 of Deeds, page 260, under No. 2923629.

5) Quit Claim Deed from Alfred N. Brown and Irene Brown, his wife to the Redmond Public Library, a corporation, dated February 9, 1954, and recorded June 7, 1954 in the office of the Auditor of King County, Washington, in Volume 3360 of Deeds, page 191, under No. 4452585.

and have had actual use and occupancy of said premises and land . since 1933.

VIII

That defendant Town of Redmond, and other defendants unknown may claim ore make some claim to said lands and premises adverse to plaintiff's title whereas in truth and fact, the defendants and each of them have no interest, claim, estate or right in or to said lands and premises.

IX

An apparent claim of title exists by virtue of a purported lease dated May 1, 1940 between the Town of Redmond as lessor and the said Redmond Public Library as lesse in which defendant Town claims to be the owner of said land and premises. So far as can be determined there is no deed in existence divesting the Redmond Public Library or its successor, plaintiff herein of its title and interest in said lands and, so far as can be ascertained no deed is in existence to convey plaintiff's interest in said lands to defendant Town and no delivery can be ascertained of any such deed, and none has ever been recorded. That, in fact, said lease is a nullity and void because defendant Town of Redmond had no interest therein to lease.

That subsequent to May, 1940 plaintiff has paid all water assessments, sidewalk assessments and street light assessments of record against said property.

XI

That subsequent to May, 1940 the defendant Town of Redmond has carried said property on its assessment rolls under the ownership and in the name of the Redmond Public Library.

XII

That plaintiff has, at all times herein mentioned, paid for and maintained all structures and improvements situated on said land.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays for Judgment as follows:

- 1. That plaintiff's title to said lands and premises be established and quieted in them in fee simple, against the claim of the defendants, or any of them:
- 2. That the defendent be forever barred from having or asserting any right, title estate, lien or interest in or to the lands herein described adverse to plaintiff;
- 3. That certain lease referred to hereinabove, dated May 1, 1940 be declared nullity and void; and
- 4. That plaintiff be awarded and have such other relief as may be just and equitable.

AFFIDAVIT OF IRENE W. BROWN IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR SUMMARY SUDGMENT

STATE OF WASHINGTON

85.

IRENE W. BROWN, being first duly sworn on oath, deposes and

That affiant and ALFRED N. BROWN are residents of King County, Washington.

That immediately prior to January 5, 1933, affiant and ALFRED N. BROWN, her husband, were the owners in fee simple of that certain real property located in the Town of Redmond, King County, Washington, described as follows:

That certain portion of the Southeast quarter of the Southeast quarter of Section two (2), township 25 N. Range 5 east, W. M. described as follows:

Commencing at a point 30 feet north and 526.2 feet West of the section corner common to Section 1, 2, 11 and 12 in Township 25 North, Range 5 East, W. M.; thence west 50 feet; thence north 193.7 feet; thence East 50 feet; thence south 193.7 feet to point of beginning.

That affiant knows of her own personal knowledge and would testify that on January 5, 1933, affiant and said ALFRED N. BROWN executed and delivered a Warranty Deed conveying the South 93.7 feet of said property to the trustees of the Redmond Public Library, said deed being properly recorded February 8, 1933 in the office of the King County Auditor in Volume 1543, Page 113, of Deeds, under Number 2749257.

That thereafter and on March 20, 1933, affiant, ADA HUPPMAN and LENA OTTINI, as said trustees, conveyed said property immediately hereinabove described by Quit Claim Deed delivered on said date to plaintiff's predecessor in name, the Redmond Public Library, a charitable and non-profit corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Washington, the Articles of Incorporation fited with the Secretary of State of the State of Washington on March 15, 1933 in which the County Auditor of King County, Washington, on March 21, 1933. Said Quit Claim Deedbeing recorded in Volume 1537, Page 558, of Deeds, King County Auditor's Office; under Number 2752936.

That affiant further knows of her own personal knowledge that on March 20, 1933, affiant and said ALFRED N. BROWN, conveyed said south 93.7 feet of said property by Quit Claim Deed to the said Redmond Public Library, a corporation, said deed delivered on said date, and being recorded in Volume 1533, Page 526, of Deeds, King County Auditor's Office, 2752937.

That thereafter and on November 20, 1936, affiant and said ALFRED N. BROWN, as grantors, conveyed by Warranty Deed the north 100 feet of the property described in plaintiff's complaint on file herein, to the said Redmond Public Library, a corporation, said deed recorded in the King County Auditor's Office on December 2, 1936 in Volume 1710, Page 260 of Deeds, Number 2923627.

That thereafter on November 23, 1937, the said Redmond. Public Library of which affiant was an officer, obtained a loan on said property secured by a mortgage from the First National Bank of Redmond, Washington, on the said south 93.7 feet of said property described in plaintiff's complaint, said mortgage recorded with the Rine County Auditor on November 30, 1937 in Volume 1471, Page 180, of Mortgages, Number 2975397, for the purpose of building construction and improvements on said property. That said mortgage loan has subsequently been repaid in full.

That on February 9, 1954, affiant and said ALFACO H. SROWN conveyed by Quit Claim Deed to the said Redmond Fullic apprary, a corporation, all right and title to the said south 93.7 feet of said property for the purpose of waiving a right of reversion therein, said deed delivered to grantee in February 9, 1954 and recorded June 7, 1954 in the Office of the King County Auditor, Volume 3360, Page 191 of Deeds, Number 4452585.

That affiant would testify as an officer of said Redmond Public Library that on March 23, 1954, said corporation amended its said Articles of Corporation solely to change its name to Nokomis Club of Redmond, said amendment filed with the Secretary of State, of the State of Washington, on March 20, 1954.

Affiant further states of her own personal knowledge that she has made a diligent search and inquiries of all public records and officers of the Town of Redmond, Washington and can find no other deed or deeds in any way pertaining to said property.

That since 1933, the Redmond Public Library and Nokomis Club of Redmond have made each, every and all improvements upon said property and maintained the same for library purposes and other club functions without financial assistance of any type from the Town of Redmond.

Further, affiant knows of her own personal knowledge that the sidewalk assessments levied by the Town of Redmond against said property were paid for by plaintiff corporation. That water assessments levied by the Town of Redmond against said property have all been paid by the said plaintiff and that a lighting assessment levied by said Town of Redmond was paid by plaintiff in November, 1957, in the sum of $39.50.

action and plaintiff is entitled to have fee title quieted in litself against any and all other interests or persons.

DOROTHEA E. TRIPPETT, being first duly sworn on oath, deposes and says:

That she is the President of plaintiff, NOKOMIS CLUB OF REDMOND, a non-profit charitable corporation, duly organized and existing under the laws of the State of Washington, having paid all necessary fees to the said state.

That affiant has been a member of said plaintiff organization for many years last past and knowsand therefore states that plaintiff and its predecessor in name, the Redmond Public Library, has in the past paid for sidewalk improvements by way of assessments levied by the Town of Redmond against said property described in plaintiff's complaint, has paid the assessments for water levied against said property by the defendant Town of Redmond and as recently as November, 1957 paid the sum of $39.50 to the said town for a street lighting assessment. That all said public improvements and levies against said property up to and including November, 1957 reveal the property is carried on the rolls and records of the Town of Redmond 4s owned by Nokomis Club of Redmond and its predecessor in name, Redmond Public Library.

That all improvements and maintenance of said premises, property and buildings thereon have been paid for by the said plaintiff without assistance or aid from the Town of Redmond.

That affiant has been totally unable, after a diligent search and inquiry to locate or gain information relative to any other deed or deeds which would in any way divest plaintiff of fee title in said property.

Re: Nokomis Club of Redmond vs. Town of Redmond, et al

Dear Mrs. Trippett:

This is merely to confirm what you observed in Court on March 20, 1958, when Judge Theodore Turner granted the Nokomis Club of Redmond a Judgment quieting fee simple title in the property concerned in the Nokomis Club.

By the time you receive this letter, I believe Mr. Young will have approved the Judgment and I will have it entered probably not later than the 24th or 25th of this month so that by your meeting of the 28th, you can advise the Nokomis Club that title has been restored to their organization.

I will forward herewith a copy of the Judgment as it will be entered and filed.

I also enclose herewith my statement for services in concluding this matter and trust that the matter is solved now after so many years of doubt as to title.

Thank you for allowing us to be of service to you in this matter.

Yours very truly,

THIS MATTER having duly and regularly come on for hearing before the undersigned Judge of the above entitled Court on March 20, 1958, upon plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment; plaintiff being represented by JOHN G. CARROLL of HULLIN & EHRLICHMAN; defendant, TOWN OF REDMOND, being represented by JAMES R. YOUNG; the defendant BROWN being in default and an Order on file to that effect; proof of service by publication on all other interested persons being on file; plaintiff having supported the allegations of its Complaint by affidavits on file herein; and the defendants not objecting thereto and no controverting affidavits being filed; a Notice of Lis Pendens being filed with the King County Auditor; and the Court being otherwise fully advised in the premises;

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:
That fee simple title in certain real property and premises legally described as:

"That certain portion of the Southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section two (2), township 25 N. Range 5 East, W. M. described as follows: Commencing at a point 30 feet north and 526.2 feet West of the section corner common to Section 1, 2, 11 and 12 in Township 25 North, Range 5 East, W. M.; thence west 50 feet; thence north 193.7 feet; thence south 193.7 feet to point of beginning."

is established and quieted in plaintiff, NOKOMIS CLUB OF REDMOND, a Washington corporation, against any and all claims of the defendants herein or any other person or persons and any and all rights, title, estate, liens or interest of any nature claimed by defendants herein are extinguished and they are barred from asserting the same.

IT IS FURTHER CRDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that a certain lease between THE TOWN OF REDMOND, lessor, and the Redmond Public Library, lessee, dated May 1, 1940, purporting to lease said premises hereinabove described, as recorded February 24, 1955, with the King County Auditor under No. 4543953 of leases is declared and adjudged null, void and of no effect whatsoever.

DONE IN OPEN COURT this _____ day of ______, 1958.

Any changes in operations from those described, or in your character or purposes, must be reported immediately to your District Director for consideration of their effect upon your exempt status. You must also report any change in your name or address.

You are not required to file Federal income tax returns so long as you retain an exempt status, unless you are subject to the tax on unrelated business income imposed by section 51l of the Code, in which event you are required to file Form 990-T. You are required to file an information return, Form 990, annually on or before the 15th day of the fifth month after the close of your annual accounting period indicated above.

You are liable for the taxes imposed under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes); and for the tax imposed under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act if you have four or more individuals in your employ.

Any questions concerning excise, employment or other Federal taxes should be submitted to this office.

This is a determination letter.

The exemption granted November 1, 1934 under your former name, Redmond Public Library, as an organization meeting the provisions of section 101(6) of the 1934 Act is modified herewith.

Very truly yours,

Neal S. Warren District Director

BUILDING SALE

The Library had relocated its operation to another location, 16425 NE 80th Street, in May 1964, but it wasn't until November 1970 that the Nokomis Club was suddenly notified by the King County Assessor that the club was no longer exempt from property taxes. The assessor valued the Library/Clubhouse property at $19,200, and charged the club three years of back taxes totaling $1,830.97. The assessor could not collect interest because the club had never received notice of the assessment.

The obvious solution was to sell the property, and the Executive Board was directed to investigate offers. Brad Best and the Chamber of Commerce were among the interested parties. The President, Dorothea Trippett, reported at the February 26, 1971, meeting that if the building is sold, the proceeds would need to be invested in a community project. The Chamber of Commerce had rented space in the old library section since January 1968, and if the Chamber of Commerce bought the building, it is possible that they would support a scholarship in the name of the Nokomis club. The club might then be able to continue to use the building as a meeting place.

The President of the Chamber of Commerce, Bill Endicott, met with the Nokomis Club on March 26, and outlined the Chamber's proposal: 1) the Chamber would give $2,000 to the club; 2) an undetermined number of payments "as the Chamber is able to do" to a scholarship fund of the Nokomis Club's choosing; and 3) the Nokomis Club could use the building whenever it doesn't interfere with the plans of the Chamber. The Nokomis Executive Board was appointed to meet with the Chamber to discuss rent adjustments to cover necessary expenses.

The club, dissatisfied with the Chamber plan, appointed a committee composed of Selma Tingelstad, Irene Brown, and Dorothea Trippett to meet with an attorney concerning the potential sale. The committee report on the disposal of the building was accepted in September 1971. The building is to be conveyed to the Chamber of Commerce according to the following terms: 1) the Chamber will pay the outstanding property taxes of approximately $1800; 2) the Chamber will pay $300 per year for the next 15 years into a scholarship fund administered by the Nokomis club; and 3) the Nokomis Club is allowed to use the premises as a meeting place on the last Friday of each month for 15 years (EMR-1).

The deed and severance papers were signed on February 25, 1972. By October 16, 1973 a Subordination Agreement was necessary because the Chamber had to mortgage the property in order to complete payment on the back taxes (SUB-1). The Nokomis Club agreed, and the sale was finalized. Nokomis was generously allowed to meet in the Clubhouse until September 1995.

NOKOMIS DEED OVER CLUBHOUSE TO CHAMBER (CON.)

Bowing to the march of time, the Redmond Nokomis Club this week deeded over its club headquarters and former library building to the Redmond Chamber of Commerce for continued use as a civic service center.

The Nokomis Club has served as a community service organization here for over 60 years. A main project throughout the decades of activity has been the sponsorship and promotion of the city's library.

Some 60 years ago, one of the club's first projects was to start the city's first and only library. It was situated in a small building next door to what is presently Redmond Floors on Leary Way. The ladies of the club bought books themselves as well as staffing the facility.

Soon outgrowing their small headquarters, the Nokomis Club moved the library across the street to rooms in the Redmond Hotel. Increasing demand on the library forced another move. The Nokomis Club raised the money to purchase the lot on which its present building stands, and built the front rooms which then housed the entire library facility.

Depression years found the women of the Nokomis Club once again involved in moneyraising projects, this time to finance a rear addition to the library building.

"This was just as much a project to give some of the unemployed men here work as it was to expand the library," Mrs. David Trippett of the club recalls.

That addition completed, the building housed the Redmond library for many years, until it was taken over by the King County library system and moved to its present location at 16427 NE 80th. The Nokomis Club retained a trusteeship in the library's operation.

Other activities highlighted in the club's long history include the raising of money to build a gymnasium for the Redmond School which stood in the site of the Redmond City Park many years ago.

"Everything we have ever done has been for the betterment of the town," Mrs. Trippett remarked. "But now, we are just getting too old to carry on."

Most of the club's present membership of 32 is 70 years old or over.

The Nokomis Club offered the site on which its building stands to the City for a library site, but the offer was turned down. The group then decided to give the building and lot to a group which it felt would carry on the tradition of community service. It chose the Redmond Chamber of Commerce.

"We will continue to use this building as a community service center and meeting place," pledged Ralph Robinson, president of the C of C.

C.

"We are very appreciative of the Nokomis Club's activities and of this opportunity to serve the community from our own building," Robinson said. The Chamber has also promised to contribute yearly to a scholarship fund established in the name of the Nokomis Club.

The building will be known as the Nokomis Building in honor of its community-minded residents of many years.

A grand new look

oxedge Chamber remodel adds offices, new reception area

The office of the Redmond Chamber of Commerce has a grand new look. After about six weeks of work, Tenhulzen Remodeling, Inc. has finished the remodel of the interior of the Redmond Chamber of Commerce office building.

The Redmond Chamber has been looking at facilities needs for several years. In 1995 the Chamber decided to remodel the building to create a more efficient and professional workspace for the growing Chamber staff. The remodel would meet the needs of the Chamber for the next three to five years.

The reception area is now dominated by a new reception counter that is a granite gray with dark blue trim. It provides workspace for the receptionist and includes more display area and storage. The rest of the workspace in the front area is separated from the reception area with new dividers. The entire workspace is done in white, grays and dark blue.

In the back part of the building, the old meeting room and kitchen area has been transformed into three new office spaces, a conference room, and an efficiency coffee service area. The conference room includes two storage closets, a small counter, and new secure and energy-efficient back doors.

The meeting area is about half the size of the old meeting room. The new offices will be occupied by the Membership Services Director, the Leadership Institute Director, the Programs Director, and the Director of Marketing and Sales.

In addition to creating new office spaces, the remodeling includes a new coat of paint and new carpeting in the updated colors in all the work areas. The electrical wiring is reworked, and cabling for the phone system and a computer network is carried in the walls. A gas water heater replaces the old electric water heater.

When asked for a price quote on the remodeling, Jack Tenhulzen's first input into the job was to include in the plans a more energy-efficient and comfortable heating system. The newly remodeled workspaces include a forced-air gas furnace that provides consistent heating throughout the building. It replaces an ailing oil furnace and baseboard electric heaters

"What was fun for us is that we did the design work. We interviewed all members on staff and looked at how they did their work," said Tenhulzen when asked about the job.

For the month of January, Tenhulzen and crewworked around the Redmond Chamber staff, with only one week of total shutdown to disrupt the office. During the week of shutdown, the walls were painted, and new carpet was put down throughout the building.

Credit for working around the office staff goes to Tenhulzen's crew boss, Charlie denTex, and the various sub-contractors who worked on the job. All the sub-contractors are Redmond-based and include Bel-Red Electric Service, Inc., Chapin Painting, Gowing Floor Coverings, Hudy Plumbing, and MacDonald Miller Co., Inc.

"We're very pleased with the workmanship and efficiency of Tenhulzen Remodeling, and also the speed of their work. We have a great looking office," said Dan Ramirez, Executive Director of the Redmond Chamber.

An open house to showcase the new workspaces is in the planning, but stop in anytime to take a look.

New landscaping vitalizes Chamber for spring

Just in time for spring, the grounds at the Redmond Chamber of Commerce have a fresh, cleaner look due to the collaborative efforts of some dedicated and talented volunteers.

Under the direction of Linda and Leon Hussey, owners of Classic Nursery on Avondale Road, the project was designed and implemented by employees of Classic Nursery, students at the Lake Washington Technical College Horticulture program, Emil's Concrete Construction Company and Stanford Signs. Parker Paint has donated paint to cover the exterior of the Chamber and complete the fresh look of the building. All the labor, equipment, design time and plant material was donated by these agencies, more than $6,000 in retail cost. The entire project took only four days, from removing old material to smoothing over the final load of beauty bark. Classic Nursery will maintain the site each month.

"I am highly impressed with the volunteerism of Linda, the students and the businesses in the community and their willingness to help the Chamber," said Marty Johnson, President of the Redmond Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. "This is indicative of the quality of people we have in Redmond. The Chamber would like to give special recognition to these people who have volunteered their time, effort, money and energy to the landscaping and building improvement."

Linda Hussey coordinated the landscaping project. Hussey, a 1992 winner of the Chamber's Volunteer of the Year Award, is used to donating time and materials from her company to the community. She believes that collaborative contributions like these are what make up a community.

"I went all through the Redmond school system — it's my community," she said. "I have a special feeling about Redmond and want to retain that community feeling and be involved with the community and support

Hussey said the timing was right for the landscaping project, as the interior of the Chamber building was being remodeled. "The new building is beautiful and was Life free pown bounding is beginning and was being hidden by all those junipers, "she said."We wanted to make the building more inviting to the general public."

The novel part of the project was working

The novel part of the project was working with the three students from the Technical College, she said. Classic Nursery has participated in many partnerships with students, but this one required a high level of design knowledge to complete. Under the guidance of horticulture program teacher Don Marshall, students Joanie Clarke, Karen Munoz and Mariska Oylear worked on the project as part of their curriculum.

The students were given the specifications of budget, visual appeal, maintenance and a timeline and asked to come up with designs. Working with Alan Burke, a registered landscape architect at Classic Nursery, the team used computer imaging to review the designs and choose the best elements of each one. The chosen design incorporates several ideas from the students including plant material, the path design and the bench.

The front pathway was significantly enlarged from the original design after Emil's Concrete agreed to donate the concrete material.

Plant material includes some young dogwood trees, severalrhododendron and azalea bushes, some spring bulbs and several perennials. The design enhanced the natural features of the grounds, including a cherry tree which blossoms pink each spring. The team then got creative and designed a raised stream bed, adding some height variety to the formerly flat entry way.

As spring continues, the plants will flower and add color and cheer to the building. Chamber members are invited to come and admire the landscaping.

The Redmond Chamber of Commerce expresses its heartfelt and sincere thanks to Linda and Leon Hussey of Classic Nursery, John and Arnie at Emil's Concrete, Dale at Stanford Signs, and students Karen, Joanie and Mariska of Don Marshall's horticulture class at the Lake Washington Technical College for their creativity and dedication to this worthy project.

THE SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS

The scholarship was established by the terms of the sale of the Nokomis Library-Clubhouse to the Chamber of Commerce in 1972. The Nokomis Club appointed a Scholarship Committee beginning in 1975 that determined the criteria a recipient is required to meet, and evaluates the applications submitted. The Scholarship Committee is assisted by the high school Career Counselor who advises students on their career plans, and acts as a liaison between the club and interested high school students. The Career Counselor also publicizes the scholarship to those students who have the potential to meet the scholarship requirements so they may submit an application.

Only applicants who are graduating seniors from Redmond High School are eligible for consideration for the scholarship. Factors considered by the Scholarship Committee include parental occupations, the number of siblings in the family, and whether a sibling is currently attending college. The college where the applicant intends to matriculate, the potential area of study, and the current class rank provide further information. The applicant must also attach a résumé that includes high school activities and interests, community activities, work experience, and achievements, awards, and honors. In addition the applicant is required to submit an essay that describes their reasons for deciding to pursue an education beyond high school.

The availability of this scholarship has been very significant to the recipients, and several of the winners have responded with inspirational letters to the club. Recipients have commented that the scholarship award provided the opportunity that made a higher education possible.

In order for the scholarship fund to become viable, the Chamber contributed $300 each year for 15 years into the fund to ensure a scholarship would be awarded. During the ensuing years, substantial donations including one of $10,000 have increased the scholarship monies. Two major fundraising events—the raffle of a quilt handmade by Nokomis members in 1985 and raffle of a Christmas Gift Basket in 2009—made significant contributions to the fund.

DIANE HANCOCK AWARDED FIRST NOKOMIS CLUB SCHOLARSHIP IN 1975

DIANE HANCOCK

Diane Hancock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N.K. Hancock of 10101 162 Ave. N.E., Redmond, has received the first Nokomis Club Scholarship.

The scholarship is given this year in honor of the United States Bicentennial.

Hancock is a student at Bellevue Community College. A graduate from Redmond High School with the class of 1975, she plans to continue her education at Seattle Pacific College.

Dear Ladies of Nokomis,

Hello! I hear that you and my grandmother, Helen Davis, have run into each other recently. I'm happy that she passed your address along to me so that I may drop you a line and let you know what I've been up to:

I graduated from Redmond High School in 1984, and was a recipient of the Nokomis Club Scholarship, which I put to good use at the University of Washington. This spring I graduated from the UW School of Nursing with honors—magna cum laude. It feels good to be through with school for a while and that all the hard work has paid off.

Right before graduation, I got married to a Redmond High alum. It has been an eventful spring! We now live in Rochester, NY, where he is a second year medical resident and I am just starting out as a nurse.

I miss Redmond and Western Washington, but we plan to move back to the area at the first opportunity. Seeing another part of the country has its benefits, too: We'll enjoy our time here.

I've decided to take some classes at the University of Rochester this fall and next spring. There are so many things I would have liked to learn about, but my nursing school schedule wasn't flexible enough. Hopefully I'll be headed into a graduate or professional school program within the next five years. I'll have plenty to keep me busy for a while.

I hope this finds you all well. I want to thank you again for your generosity towards my education. It was and still is very much appreciated!

Fondly, Elizabeth McClintick

Nokomís Club of Redmond Redmond, Washington

Dear Friends:

As you may recall, you awarded me your scholarship for 1986 as I was graduating from Redmond High School. I would like to report to you on the progress of my education.

I have been a student at Bellevue Community College for the past three years and will complete my last course next quarter. I have been working for the Bellevue YMCA the past year driving the children's van every day. I pick up the elementary children at several schools and take them to the Y for the afternoon programs. I also spend time with the kindergartners at the Y.

I'm very proud to say that I have been accepted as a transfer student at Western Washington University for Fall 1989. I am applying for entrance to the School of Education and completing several scholarship applications.

If you would like to give another boost to a struggling student of education, I'm taking up a collection. Your confidence in me three years ago helped me along the way and I really needed and appreciated that.

One way or another, I will be sending you a graduation announcement in about another three years. I can see myself in front of a classroom now, and I'm more excited than ever. Maybe I can student teach in Redmond!

Kindest regards, Kym Murphy

DEAR MS TOWNSEND AND NOKOMIS CLUB MEMBERS

THANK YOU SO VERY MUCH FOR THE $1,000 SCHOLARSHIP THAT YOU HAVE AWARDED ME! THE COLLEGE I AM ATTENDING, WHITWORTH COLLEGE IN SPOKANE, IS A PRIVATE COLLEGE AND THE FINANCIAL BURDEN IS DAUNTING, SO YOUR AWARD IS MUCH APPRECIATED!

I GRADUATED FROM REDMOND HIGH SCHOOL WITH MY REGULAR CREDITS AND MY RUNNING START CREDITS FROM BCC LAST NIGHT! IT FELT SO GOOD TO RECEIVE MY DIPLOMA AND I AM LOOKING FORWARD TO BEGINNING MY LIFE AS A COLLEGE STUDENT IN THE FALL! I HAVE ALREADY SIGNED UP FOR CLASSES AND AM TAKING AN ANCIENT HISTORY CLASS, SPANISH, A BUSINESS MATH CLASS, AND I AM TRYING TWO NEW FIELDS OF ENDEAVOR: GUITAR AND KARATE! EVENTUALLY, I PLAN TO MADOR IN BUSINESS, BUT FIRST I MUST GET MY BASIC COURSES COMPLETED.

Thanks again for the wonderful scholarship and I look forward to seeing you at the Luncheon on June 29th!

SINCERELY,

Nokomis Club honors city's finest, regardless of age

On Friday, June 29, the women of Redmond's Nokomis Club shared lunch at the Family Pancake House, awarded its annual college scholarship, honored one of its oldest members for volunteer service and began planning for a 100-year anniversary celebration in 2009.

If that seems like an awful lot to pack into one meeting, you probably don't know the history of this sisterhood of movers and

A touching poem by Eileen McCoskrie, circulated at the June meeting, gives a clue about the origins of the group that formed during pioneer days and opened Redmond's first public library in 1927.

In part, the poem reads:

"A diverse club that met each month on a Friday noon

At washboards, treadle sewing machines, wood-burning stoves,

Meant a stolen hour from solemn duties

Feeding chickens, children and hungry exchange ideas.

At least the ideas women were allowed

It meant an hour to talk and laugh,

And don't forget—to do good works

Katherine Ganter/Reporter Newspapers Sean Tennis grins as he responds to a question after the ladies of the Nokomis group presented him with a $1,000 scholarship during a lunch meeting at the Redmond Family Pancake House on Friday, June 29.

Who could fault books for a library, and scholarships?

No man would dare..."

The entire poem and other memorabilia

The entire poem and other memorabilia will be featured in a commemorative booklet for the club's centennenial, and the Nokomis Club is collaborating with Friends of the Redmond Library to place a work of art at the present site of the library.

"Nokomis," incidentally, was the grand-mother of Hiawatha in Henry Wadwsorth Longfellow's epic poem "The Song of Hiawatha," a favorite reading selection at the turn-of-the-century.

At least one Nokomis member, Audrey Gorlick, could actually tell you what life was like when Redmond was a rough-and-tumble logging and farming town. She's 102 years old and a recent recipient of the President's Volunteer Service Award.

Yet the ladies of Nokomis don't just live in the past. One of the ways they look to the future is by giving scholarships to ambitious high school graduates.

This year's $1,000 recipient was Redmond High School's Sean Tennis. A Running Start student, football and trumpet player among other things, his culminating project was remodeling his parents' bathroom.

He also has his own pressure-washing and landscaping business, which he'll hand down to his brother when he heads off to Whitworth College this fall.

A $10,000 donation from Gorlick's nephew, Richard Hirsch, made Tennis scholarship possible and will help the Nokomis women send other young people to college for several years to come.

But the club can use some support from the community as it strives to install the bench or statue at the Redmond Regional Library in 2009.

I want to thank you all so much for all of your kindness and generosity. Without your help, I'm not even sure what I'd be doing for school. I feel so proud that because of your help, I am able to pay for college on my own. I cannot express how happy and thankful my mother and I are.

It was a pleasure to meet those of you who were able to attend the luncheon. I had a lovely time. I thank you again, with all my heart.

Nokomis: 100 years of service

Pioneer women's club established Redmond's first library in 1927

Redmond's Nokomis Club celebrated its centennial year in 2009.

Established in 1909 as an organization of pioneer women, Nokomis was named for a figure in Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's "The Song of Hiawatha."

The ladies of Nokomis promoted reading and education and established Redmond's first public library in 1927. They continued to fund and operate the library until it became part of the King County Library System (KCLS) in 1947.

Since the 1950s, the group has awarded an annual scholarship to a Redmond high school senior. Recently, Nokomis members raised $1,090 for the next Audrey Gorlick Memorial Scholarship, to be given at the end of this academic year to a graduate heading to college or a technical school.

Gorlick was a longtime Nokomis member who was profiled in the July 19, 2008 edition of the Redmond Reporter, shortly after she passed away at the age of 103.

NOROMIS

The women's club was legendary,
Formed during the pioneer days.
Through it the ladies were allowed
To take part in the history of a new-born town
Growing in the woods.

Doing good works provided the noble purpose
Required for grudging tolerance and recognition
From the male powers that be.
All women knew this.

Their real need was for connection
To each other in a difficult life.
A place and time however brief
To make friends.

Church work gave some a chance to mingle.
The Ladies Aid did good works
But only with one faith and under watchful eyes.
A select Sunday group.

A diverse club that met each month on a Friday noon
Meant a stolen hour from solemn duties
At washboards, treadle sewing machines, wood-burning stoves,
Feeding chickens, children,
And hungry men.

It meant an hour to talk, to laugh, to exchange ideas.
At least the ideas women were allowed to have.
And don't forget—to do good works.
Who could fault books for a library, and scholarships?
No man would dare.

Over time, there were never enough books.
The best and brightest always needed scholarships.
The women learned to appreciate
Their own value.

The town outgrew the woods—became a city.
The women thrived on friendship—and good works.
And the club survived
A HUNDRED YEARS!

HISTORY OF NOKOMIS CLUB

On Wednesday June 3, 1909 small group of women met at the home of Mrs. W. B. Williams and organized the Nokomis Club. Of these women Mrs. W. B. Williams lives in Corning, Cal., Mrs. John Larson in Kirkland, Wash. and Mrs. William Forrester in Redmond. Mrs. Forrester is still a member of the club.

The club met every two weeks when first organized, on Thursday. The regular meeting day now is the last Friday of every month with "pot luck" lunch at one o'clock P. M. On through the years we find the club growing in membership and always lending a helping hand wherever needed, helping the church, school, and needy families.

An interesting item in Feb. 1912—the club sponsored a dance, total receipts $104.50—net proceeds were $31.94. Nowadays if net proceeds are not 50% we feel badly.

Early in 1914 the Nokomis Club donated $140 to the building of the gymnasium on the old school grounds now a city park. In the month of Feb. 1915 the club installed a drinking fountain on the old school grounds costing $61.50. In March 1916 a donation of $20 for the High School Athletic Association. In July 1917 a donation of $50 to the Red Cross. In May 1918 the club paid $125 for clearing of land on old school grounds. In the years of 1919 and 1920 we find in going through the minutes many meetings held with only from 8 to 11 members present. From Feb. 1921 to June 1921 the club held no meetings due to Red Cross Home Nursing classes. In 1922 the club furnished the hospital room at the new school building at a cost of $50. In July 1922 the dues were raised to 25¢ a month and a 50¢ initiation fee which is still effective.

Due to the loss of a minute book the history of Nokomis club from here on—very little can be said. In 1927 the Club ladies served meals at a three day Grange Fair held on the old school grounds. About $350 was cleared.

After that we started talking library which did materialize and which we are real proud but you learn all about that in the history of the library. Another big job was a carnival and chicken dinner in Oct. 1929. We cleared something over $200.

On January 20, 1936 a special meeting was called to talk about building our present club house. At the Jan. 31st meeting it was voted to go ahead. The club house was completed on October 1927. Our first meeting held there with Mrs. Skjarstad as hostess was in Nov. At that time a corporation was formed with Mrs. A. N. Brown, Mrs. A. Ottini and Mrs. C. W. Huffman as trustees. This same month the trustees signed a mortgage for $1200 for this building. The first payment was made in May 1938 and at the present writing three years from that date the mortgage is only $300.

The Club Ladies filled the need of the community when they built the house as it is now the most popular meeting place in the community. It is furnished with tables, benches, chairs to seat 100 persons. There is a large oil heater and a big fireplace. The kitchen is fully equipped with the necessary dishes, silverware, and cooking utensils to serve a 100. These things are paid for.

We have earned our money by giving and serving dinners, rentals for our club house and a donation of $100 a year from the town of Redmond. Harmony among our members and cooperation in all our undertakings is the keynote of our success.

NOKOMIS CLUB HISTORICAL SUMMARY 1909-2009

With large distances and dense forests separating residences, Redmond pioneer women in the early 1900's desired alleviation of their loneliness and enhancement of their social and intellectual lives. Creation of an organized association provided the opportunity to join together with other compatible women who shared mutual interests. The formation of a new Redmond organization attracted Mabel Adams, Rene Adams, Hattie Forrester, Lenna Huffman, and May Huffman, who answered the invitation of Jennie Williams to meet at her home on June 3, 1909.

The agenda addressed during the initial meeting of the group determined the name, officers, and by-laws. The women designated the new organization The Nokomis Club of Redmond, Washington—an appellation derived from the character of Nokomis, Hiawatha's grandmother, in Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's epic poem, The Song of Hiawatha. The officers selected at the meeting were May Huffman, Commander-in-Chief; Jennie Williams, Chief; Lenna Huffman, Clerk; Hattie Forrester, Banker; Rene Adams, Advocate; and Mabel Adams, Attendant. They wrote by-laws that said "only those of good moral character may become members of the club", and decided that "two negatives bars any person from membership". Dues were determined to be $10 \, \text{¢}$ per meeting, and an initiation fee of $25 \, \text{¢}$ was charged with the funds to be used for any purpose determined by the majority of the members.

Meetings were held on Thursday every two weeks, and when the club met on June 17, Jennie Sikes was accepted as the seventh charter member. The meeting plan specified the hostess prepare and present a biography of the poet studied at that meeting, and the members would deliver a quotation or recitation of the poet. John Greenleaf Whittier was the first poet studied, and during the ensuing year poets Longfellow, Byron, Burns, and Tennyson were discussed. Additions to the meeting format were instituted and included the reading of Bible passages at the beginning of the meeting by the Advocate, and a "for the good of the order" segment that presented readings by members from various literary sources.

Several modifications occurred as the ladies continued to meet. One major change in November 1909 shifted the meeting day to Friday every two weeks which was eventually revised to every three weeks because of a lack of attendance. By January 1910 the members felt that a social function should be held each month that celebrated a member's birthday during that month—a decision that encouraged the celebration of other milestones, and the following March members decided they wanted to add entertainment in the programs. Also during January of 1910, the members declared the purpose of the club was to be a social organization.

Earlier that January the ladies had paid the insurance for the Methodist Church which cost $30 ($654.60 in 2010 dollars) only to discover two weeks later that their donation had not been spent on insurance. As a result, the by-laws were amended to read, "Club entirely independent of church, and any money raised is to be used for any other purpose than for church." The club then focused their service activities on the provision of clothing at Christmas for homeless and abandoned children at the Des Moines Industrial Home. Another priority was the recruitment of new members, and a committee was appointed to visit homes within the community to extend an invitation to potential members to attend one club meeting. The members of this committee were reappointed every six weeks.

In order to raise funds for club projects, dances were planned with the first one occurring on February 10, 1912 that made $27 ($589.14 in 2010 dollars). Another favorite method of raising funds was to sponsor card parties. The first club card party was held on November 7, 1912 in the old school building, but the revenues were not recorded. Utilizing these two methods of fundraising, the club made enough money to assist the school, and was able to install a water fountain for $61.37 ($1,339 in 2010 dollars), donate $18 ($392.76 in 2010 dollars) to the school athletic association, credit $125 ($2,727.50 in 2010 dollars) toward the construction of a new gymnasium, and for the sum of $75 ($1,636.50 in 2010 dollars) hired out the clearing of trees, stumps, and rubbish from the old school grounds.

Occupied with planning dances, holding card parties, and supporting the school, members became distracted from the study of literature, but in September 1915 they decided to return to reading for an hour during the meeting with two readers each reading for one-half hour. The first book selected for reading in the new format was The Goodly Fellowship by Rachel Schauffler.

The Spanish Influenza epidemic that began in 1918 interfered with the burgeoning club activities, and caused the cancellation of several meetings, a decrease in the membership roll, and prevented holding dances and card parties. Even though the members persevered in meeting, the few activities that took place were personal assistance to a family in need in 1920 and instruction in home nursing for the membership in 1921. Instituted in July 1920 was the tradition of having a family picnic in July when the first picnic was held at Cottage Lake. The customary July picnic at a local park or garden continued until 1971.

Following the flu epidemic, club activities and projects gradually began to return to normal, and the club continued its contribution to the school. They furnished a nurse's room at the high school in 1922 for $49.50 ($980.10 in 2010 dollars), made a $25 ($495 in 2010 dollars) donation in 1923 for new stage curtains, paid the outstanding balance of $29.21 ($578.36 in 2010 dollars) on the school piano in 1925, and donated a Hawthorne tree for planting on the school grounds in 1926. The club also initiated a new project of preparing suppers for community center card parties in September 1923.

Members found by June 1926 that they had raised a substantial amount of money, and sought a project to make advantageous use of these funds. Discussed as potential projects were the establishment of a library, which had first been discussed in 1922, or assisting in orthopedic work. It was determined that either choice necessitated planning for further fundraising. The opportunity for an ideal money making project occurred in September when a three-day Grange Fair was held on all three floors of the old school located on the present site of Anderson Park. Nokomis served dinner, and charged 50¢ per dinner plate and 10¢ per dessert. They raised $252.75 ($5,068 in 2010 dollars). The following February Royal Neighbors requested that Nokomis serve a banquet dinner, and paid 65¢ per plate for a dinner menu of roast or chicken, potatoes, vegetable, salad, rolls, pickles, dessert, and coffee

Flush with cash, in March 1927 the club held a vote by secret ballot to determine which project to undertake. The outcome favored the library, and a committee was appointed to find a suitable location. The committee reported in April that Mr. Herman Reed's 2-room building on the west side of Leary Way immediately north of Redmond Trading Company (Half Price Books in 2011) was a suitable site, and the executive committee signed a lease with Reed on June 25. Reed agreed to begin the yearly lease in September if the front of the building was painted by the club. Husbands donated their labor in order for the club to afford signage. Committees were appointed to paint, paper, decorate, drape, furnish, and clean the building, and still other groups were appointed to catalogue, sort, and purchase books. The community was canvassed for book donations, and organizations were asked to contribute as well.

The Library opened on October 29, 1927, and was open during the hours of 2-5 pm Wednesday and Saturday and 7-9 pm Tuesday and Thursday evening. Initially there were 500 books on the shelf, and during the first month 567 books were loaned on 95 library cards. A Library Board of Control was established in December that gave responsibility for library management to four club members elected with staggered terms. By September 1929, the Library needed more space to accommodate the expanded number of books, and it was decided to move to the large room of the Grand Central Hotel on the northeast corner of Leary Way and Cleveland Street. The Library gained 300 more volumes shortly after the move when the Washington State Traveling Library arrived in October. Also expanded were the hours of operation: 7-8:30 pm Tuesday and Thursday, 12-4 pm Wednesday, and 2-4 pm Saturday.

Fundraising events during this period included a play that earned $125 ($2,516 in 2010 dollars), a minstrel show made $57.80 ($1,164 in 2010 dollars), and a carnival raised $297.81 ($5,995 in 2010 dollars). Lesser money makers were several card parties, a couple of dances, and regular dinner service for the Men's Club.

A successful strategy was devised during 1928 that ensured all members would equally share in activity preparation and money making tasks when the membership was divided into three permanent committees with each committee assigned projects in rotation. Club interests focused not only on making money, but also on current events and culture. The club meetings were informational and entertaining, and followed a pattern: a speaker discussed various topics such as school issues and funding, politics, home economics, handicrafts, art and music, gardening, travel destinations, or women's club federation issues followed by a business meeting with musical entertainment at the close of the gathering. The traditional lunch was held either before or after the meeting, and was allotted two hours with the remainder of the meeting also two hours in length. It was a four-hour Nokomis Friday afternoon.

The club belonged to the Federation of Women's Clubs for a span of 67 years—from 1928 to 1995. This affiliation allowed the club to have access to greater resources that furthered skill development, expanded rights, and increased abilities applicable to resolution of community, state and national challenges. Members regularly took advantage of the training and programs offered at district and state conventions.

There was substantial sentiment by 1932 toward construction of a library building as the Library at the Grand Central Hotel became problematic. Chief Counsel (President) Mabel Johnson gave an inspirational talk at the beginning of 1932 advocating construction of Nokomis' own library building, which was approved after a thorough financial review indicated the club would be able to build without going into debt. Club member Irene Brown and her husband, Alfred N. Brown, donated a parcel of land for the building. Irene also chaired the Building Committee, who estimated the cost to be $400.55, but the actual cost was just $19.58 more at $420.13 ($8,520.24 in 2010 dollars). A non-profit corporation was established with a Board of Trustees, Lena Ottini, Irene Brown, and Ada Huffman, designated to oversee Library operations.

The first Redmond Library built for that purpose was dedicated on February 12, 1933, and opened for business on March 1, 1933. The hours were: 7-8:30 pm Tuesday and Thursday, 11:30 am-4 pm Wednesday, and 2-4 pm Saturday. Circulation figures for 1934 show that a total of 8,957 items were checked out from the Library. It remained in this location until January 1953—a period of twenty years.

Along with the increase in club activities, demand for membership in Nokomis also grew, and by 1934 the Constitution was amended to increase the membership roll from 35 to 40 members. The Constitution also provided, "after the club quota of 40 is filled, all applications shall be placed on a waiting list and proposed by secretary for membership as soon as vacancy occurs in order of application." Membership was still subject to the original by-laws and each member had to be voted into the club, but as the club matured this requirement was removed. Membership in the senior club became an issue 1958, but was resolved with one to two new members joining at each meeting. The average attendance at each meeting was 20 until the turn of the 21st Century.

Junior Nokomis formed in 1934 as a means of training younger women, who as they matured would become Senior Nokomis members. Advised by Senior Nokomis members, the activities the junior club undertook were quite different but complimentary to the community service nature of the senior club. Invitations to meetings as well as events sponsored by either club were often extended and reciprocated. The membership of Junior Nokomis had dwindled by 1985 when the remaining members joined the senior group.

Three years after the Library opened, the club felt an addition to the Library that would serve as a social hall and could be rented to individuals, clubs, and other organizations would be of benefit to the club and the community. The project was overwhelming approved in January of 1936, and property was purchased adjacent to the Library from the Brown's for $50. The new hall was designed to accommodate service for 100 people, and was inaugurated at the Businessmen's Dinner served on Tuesday, November 2, 1937. Called The Clubhouse, the first Nokomis meeting was held there on the last Friday of November, the 26th in 1937. In order to finance the addition, the club members did not hesitate to take out a loan of $1,200 which was paid by November 27, 1942.

The facilities of the new social hall allowed the club to expand its dinner service to other clubs, and besides the Men's Club, the Businessmen's Club and the Schoolmen's Club became regular customers. Dances and card parties were held less often than they had been earlier, so rental fees derived from social hall use by individuals and other organizations became the major source of income.

In 1942 King County voters approved the collection of up to 50¢ per $1,000 assessed property valuation to establish and operate the Rural King County Library District. Cities and towns could also contract with the library district for services. It was not until the August 30, 1946, meeting of Nokomis that two staff members, Miss McDowell and Miss Sealoff, from the King County Public Library, spoke on the activities of the library and the benefits to rural communities and small towns. The September meeting saw Mrs. Nelson, a member of the Board of Trustees, King County Public Library, explain the library situation in Fall City and Snoqualmie and give details on how the library has worked with those two communities. At the October meeting the club took action to sign up with the King County Public Library for one year. Because the library district was funded with tax funds, the Town Council on December 4, 1946, agreed to enter into a contract to affiliate with the Rural King County Library District for library purposes to begin on January 1, 1947.

All books were turned over to the library district with the exception of the memorial books, and when the Library opened in January, the first paid Librarian was Mamie Orr, a long-standing Nokomis member. She reported at the January meeting that during the month 1,098 books were checked out and 278 library cards issued. By January 1948 Nokomis requested the library district continue to operate the Redmond Library for another three years while the club continued to furnish the building to the Town of Redmond for library purposes for a rental of $100 per year—a sum that was paid only for the year 1947.

Since the club no longer had operational responsibilities for the Library, members took a more leisurely attitude toward fundraising to meet expenses. A Ways and Means Committee was appointed to seek other methods of raising funds rather than just sole reliance on rental fees because regular dinner service and magazine sales were discontinued by the end of 1948. A party luncheon took place, a "Luncheon Is Served" event was held, and the club decided to form a blanket club. These projects were successful in defraying building maintenance expenses of: an addition of a concrete porch, a fan for the oil stove, two new electric stoves and requisite electrical rewiring, hot water heater, new roofing, heater, oil barrel and pump for the Library, new flooring in the Clubhouse, and foundation repair of the Clubhouse. But by March 1952 members were ready to explore the sale of the building, and appointed Irene Brown to contact the Town Council. Irene reported that this initial effort was stymied, but the Town Council did budget $250 for water, heating fuel, and lights for 1953. However in October, the club received notice that it was in fact illegal for the town to pay for utilities, and further stated that a fuel line and wiring must be disconnected from the Library by "October I, 1953" despite the fact there was no fuel line or additional wiring on the Library premises.

In the meantime, the Library had experienced significant growth, and with a circulation of 14,268 items needed more space. Mamie Orr, Librarian, directed the move into the Clubhouse at the end of December 1952, and the Library opened in January 1953 with a choice of 6,000 books available to readers. The hours of operation were expanded to: 7-9 pm Monday, 2-5 pm and 7-9 pm Tuesday and Thursday, and 11 am-4 pm Saturday.

Since the Library was now contracted by the Town to Rural King County Library District, the Corporation of Redmond Public Library with Library Trustees as executive decision makers was obsolete. In April of 1954 the corporate entity became the Nokomis Club of Redmond. This change empowered the club to functionally make legal decisions and hold title to the Library-Clubhouse property.

Purchase of the Library-Clubhouse was still under consideration by the Town Council. In an October 1955 meeting with the council, it was found that the club did not have a clear title to the Library-Clubhouse property, and the following month another meeting was held to determine the procedure and documents needed to obtain clear title. According to the Town Council, the most practical solution would be to give the Town of Redmond clear title to the property with the provision that the town maintains the building and grounds, and the property shall always be retained for club, library, and civic purposes. If the building should be inadequate and a new building erected on the premises, the same provisions shall apply.

The club countered with a resolution in December that stated the club accepts the resolutions, but changes them to: "The premises are not be sold or exchangeable at any time, but is to be kept always as a memorial to the Nokomis Club women, and this particular property shall be retained exclusively for club, library, community assembly, and other civic purposes and let it be stated that the kitchen equipment is the property of Nokomis club and is not included in the deed. If another building is erected, the same provisions will apply. Immediate repairs are also demanded." The club rejected the proposed arrangement with the town.

A special meeting was held with the Town Council in December 1957 to resolve the title issue. Lena Ottini presented the summation during the special meeting recounting that the deed to the Nokomis property was given to the Town of Redmond in order to obtain Work Progress Administration (WPA) assistance in construction of the building since no private organizations could employ WPA labor. It was understood that when the work was completed, the property clear of the mortgage would revert to the Nokomis club. Instead, a 99-year lease was signed with the Town of Redmond because Judge Reil ruled that it was legally impossible to change the deed when Trustees Lena Ottini, Irene Brown, and Ada Huffman presented their case before him. In the meantime the Town of Redmond had no record of a deed, or a deed in their possession. Since the trustees did sign a lease, the title is clouded.

Nokomis President Dorothea Trippett reported that in a similar situation with a ladies club in Enumclaw, the situation was resolved by instituting a friendly lawsuit with the city. The club voted to bring a lawsuit in order to obtain a clear title, and it was understood that the club would accept the final decision of the attorneys. Finally, in March 1958 clear title to the club property was regained.

While the building sale and ownership was under investigation, President Trippett noted in the September 1955 meeting that any organization should have a goal or a special purpose other than merely a social club. She requested suggestions, but none were forthcoming. Rental fees were the chief revenue source, but a couple of dinners were served, and a card party and bake sale held. Members were asked to make out-of-pocket donations when insurance came due and pay the $250 fee incurred when sewer service was extended to the building. Once again the club proposed the town should pay for heat, water, electricity, and janitorial services in return for free use of the Library although the club in 1954 had requested the town pay $600 per year in rent. No resolution of this issue is noted, nor is revenue from the town recorded in the income column of the club ledgers.

The highlight of 1959 was the 50th anniversary of the Nokomis Club. Fifty people attended the celebration on June 3rd, and enjoyed the Library and Clubhouse decorated in yellow roses. Refreshments were served complimented by a cake decorated in club colors of purple and gold. Additional social events were shared with other clubs on a reciprocal basis. Nokomis had entertained the Bellevue Women's Club since 1941, but that exchange lapsed in 1952. Beginning in 1947 the Kirkland Women's Club met with Nokomis twice each year—an exchange that lasted until 1991.

Nokomis members participated in an exemplary cleanup of their property that included repairing and painting the building exterior and placement of lawn and flower beds after installation of the city sewer in 1960. Inspired by their example, Redmond held a clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign called "Scrub the Hub" to prepare for visitors to the Seattle World's Fair "Century 21 Exposition" that opened in April 1962. Because the initial work party scheduled on May 21, 1961 had a small turnout, "Scrub the Hub" Chairman, Marguerite "Perky" Johnson, recruited Nokomis President Jessie Norman and President-elect Audrey Johnson to co-chair the Public Relations Committee. It was their job to make personal contacts with the 15 organizations plus additional influential individuals to promote a larger turnout that would effectively improve the appearance of the community. The clean-up, fix-up, and paint-up work occurred over two more days, July 29 and August 12, and had 200 participants. Assisted by Nokomis members, Jessie Norman and Audrey Johnson planned the meals, supervised preparation, and meal service for the workers on both days.

The move of the Library into the Clubhouse enabled it to supply its readership with an expansion to 17,000 volumes by 1964, but the growth also required more space to shelve the books. Provision of adequate space was achieved when the Library relocated to 16425 NE 80th Street in May. After 37 years, Nokomis no longer had any responsibility for the Library, but a committee of members was formed who chose to work at the new location. The club continued for several years to sponsor the open house held at the Library each year during National Library Week.

Nokomis continued donations to the charitable causes of the Rainier School in Buckley and Eastside Handicappers. The club began regular monthly donations of arts and craft supplies to the Lake Washington Special Education Center, and members baked birthday cakes for the children at the Echo Glen juvenile detention facility. Members also collected contributions in support of the Federation of Women's Clubs projects in Korea and Japan. Fundraising activities that supported these projects were three Tupperware parties, sales of fruitcakes each November and December, and sales of stationery notes with a Washington State motif.

Late in 1970 the club received notice that they no longer had tax exempt status because the library had moved from its premises in 1964. The county assessor assessed the property at $19,200, and charged three years of back taxes totaling $1,830.97. Although there was substantial controversy, it was decided to sell the property. The Chamber of Commerce had in January 1968 rented space in the old library portion of the building, and prepared a proposal to buy the property. The terms they presented were: give $2,000 to the club, an undetermined number of payments "as the chamber is able to do" to a scholarship fund, and the club is to have the use of the building whenever it doesn't interfere with the plans of the Chamber.

The club appointed a committee to meet with an attorney concerning the potential building sale. The terms recommended by the committee to the membership were: the Chamber will pay the outstanding property taxes of approximately $1,800, the Chamber will pay $300 per year for the next 15 years into a scholarship fund administered by the Nokomis Club, and Nokomis is allowed to use the premises as a meeting place on the last Friday of each month for 15 years. These requirements were approved by the club membership, and the deed and severance papers were signed in February 1972, but a revision was required in October 1973 because the Chamber had to borrow in order to pay the taxes and improvements to the Nokomis building. The Nokomis officers signed the revised agreement and placed it in a safety deposit box.

The Scholarship Committee was established in 1975 to determine the criteria for earning the scholarship, and to select a recipient from among the applicants. The first scholarship was awarded to Diane Hancock in celebration of the bicentennial of the founding of the United States. Presentation of a scholarship each year to a graduate of Redmond High School continues to the present time and is an important club function.

Projects undertaken in celebration of the bicentennial were determined through the suggestions of the Federation of Women's Club Ways and Means Committee, and consisted of sales of commemorative plates, phoenix pins and pendants, and "Brite" stationery notes. The stationery notes proved to be a very popular moneymaker. The club participated in the tree planting program, another of the federation projects. Nokomis gathered several dogwood trees, trees of heaven, two firs, and one cedar that were donated to the City of Redmond and planted in Farrell-McWhirter Park and Marymoor Park by the Parks and Recreation Department. Federation members altogether planted over 2,000 trees nationwide by the end of 1976.

During the fall of 1975, the Redmond Park and Recreation Department cited personnel and financial requirements needed to stimulate expansion of the activities of senior citizens. Included in fundraising for senior citizen projects, Nokomis joined other civic clubs in money making efforts. Nokomis contributed the dessert, apple crisp, to a community-wide dinner to benefit seniors that was held in November. Eventually a federally funded program, the Senior Citizen Saver Program, was introduced that provided home repairs, fire alarm installation, a postal alert program, and emergency taxicab program. Crime prevention for senior citizens was the subject of a talk by a Redmond police officer at a Nokomis meeting. By 1986 the club decided to assist in furnishing the Senior Center projected to be built on the Sammamish River near the city hall. When the Senior Center opened in 1990, Nokomis had donated over $2,000 toward the furnishings.

Busy with needle and thread, Jenny Bryden and her committee, Hazel Johnson, Mildred Streeter, and Hazel Kerwin, constructed a quilt with a motif of Redmond buildings that was raffled in order to raise money for the scholarship fund. The quilt was completed in time to be displayed at GI Van's Restaurant in November 1984, and during the spring of 1985 it was shown at Bud's Café, Martinizing Cleaners, and Seattle Trust Bank. The sale of raffle tickets benefited the scholarship fund by collecting $1,818, and when the drawing was held at Derby Days 1985, the quilt was won by the daughter of a Nokomis member.

Besides the scholarship, other charitable causes continued to attract support from the club. Steps at the Chamber of Commerce building were repaired with a $100 contribution. Avondale Lutheran Church received donations earmarked for food and clothing for two families and for Christmas food baskets. Other charities receiving funds or commodities were Custom Industries, Gordon Hauck School, YWCA Family Village in Redmond, and Eastside Domestic Violence. Starting in 1985 through 1995 a monthly out-of-pocket collection was taken that annually netted between $150 and $500 for the Food Bank. The club also supported the Redmond Library with donations for the purpose of purchasing essential books as a memorial to a departed member. Each memorial book has a bookplate that is placed inside the front cover with the name of the member in whose memory the book was given.

Space in the library provided storage for club documents, but in 1992 the library requested removal of the Nokomis records and threatened to discard them. The club liaison to the library, Audrey Gorlick, hastened to the library to retrieve the documents. She collected the records, and sorted through items including complete minutes and attendance records beginning in 1909, financial ledgers, photographs, newspaper clippings of club activities, yearly club programs, and other assorted club related items. These documents were initially donated to Marymoor Museum in 1997, but when the museum closed the club records were sent to the Eastside Heritage Center where they remain carefully archived but available for research.

After 58 years of meetings in The Clubhouse, the club had to seek another location for its monthly last Friday-of-the-month meeting since the large space was being converted into offices during remodeling necessitated by the increased responsibilities of the Chamber of Commerce. The September 1995 meeting of the club was the last meeting held in The Clubhouse which exceeded by eight years the original 15 year meeting agreement with the Chamber. The club met for a few years in the Library, and then decided that it would be a good idea to find a suitable restaurant. Tony Roma's on Redmond Way adjacent to Wendy's provided a good location until it closed in October 2005. The club moved its Friday lunch to the Family Pancake House, but in November 2007 meetings changed to a large private dining room at Emerald Heights which has proved to be very satisfactory.

Also coming to an end was the fundraising project of the sale of dishcloths ordered from Sangamon Mills. The dishcloths were first sold in 1948, and provided a good supplemental income until they were sold out in 2001 by Marian Curry, who had managed the project for several years. Donations became the primary source of income for the scholarship which is the sole club project. By 2004 contributions to the scholarship fund totaled $1,451.17, and that same year Audrey Gorlick's grand-nephew, Richard Hersh, a resident of Southern California, gave $10,000 to ensure scholarships would be awarded for several years. During the centennial anniversary of the club in 2009, $2,460 was raised, and a December sale of raffle tickets for a Christmas Gift Basket brought in an additional $1,100 for the Audrey Gorlick Memorial Scholarship.

The 2009 centennial celebration marked an important milestone in the history of the club. The continued relationship with the library is an important element of club activities, and club members commemorated the centennial with the donation of a glass sculpture constructed from an archived 1932 photograph of members converted into a glass sculpture by John Tapert. The sculpture, entitled "Women of Vision" in recognition of their efforts to establish, operate, fund, and house the library, is located at the east entrance of the Redmond Regional Library at 15990 NE 85th Street. The project was financed primarily by a donation from Mary Kay Hallman with an additional sum from Clare "Amo" Marr.

An important contribution to the 2009 centennial celebration is the poem, "Nokomis" written by Eileen McCoskrie, a well known local journalist and mother of club member, RuthAnn McCoskrie. The last stanza of the poem concludes:

"The town outgrew the woods—became a city.

The women thrived on friendship—and good works.

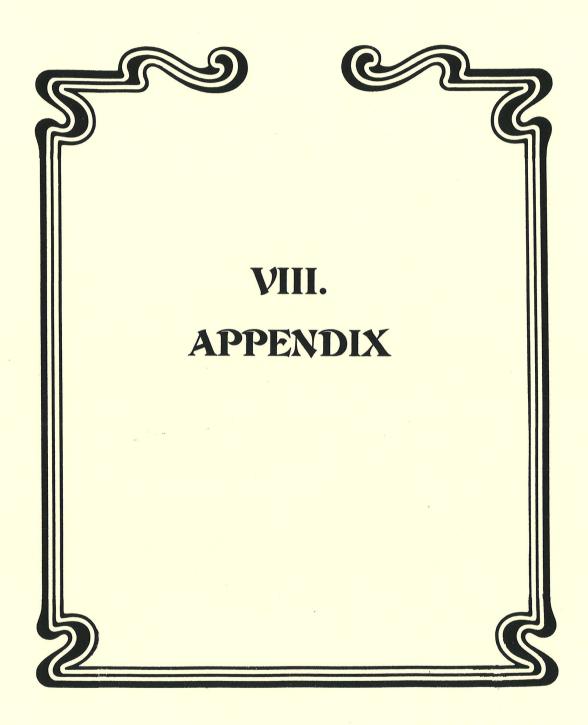

And the club survived

A HUNDRED YEARS!"

May all of the Nokomis Club members continue their sisterhood—and benevolence in their community service—throughout the 21st Century.

VALUE OF THE DOLLAR¹

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) calculation uses the average CPI for a given calendar year, and has been calculated every year since 1913. This data represent changes in prices of all goods and services purchased for consumption by urban households.

For the current year, the latest monthly index value is used. In 2008, for example, it took $21.57 to buy what $1 bought in 1913. Note that in 1920, it cost $2.02, and declined in 1925 and through the 1930s, illustrating the effect of the Great Depression, when prices slumped, and did not pass $2 again until 1950.

LIBRARY TO BE OPEN SATURDAY, OCT. 29; PROGRAM

Nokomis Club Definitely Decides To Open New Library Saturday, Oct. 29; Opening To Be Formal One With Program, Is Present Plan

At the last regular meeting of the Nokomis Club at the home of Mrs. A. N. Brown on last Friday it was definitely decided that the new public Library, sponsored and made possible by the Nokomis Club, should be opened Saturday, October 29th. The opening will be a formal one and the program for that particular day was placed in the hands of Mrs. William Forrester. Mrs. Evelyn Perrigo gave out some very valuable instructions on the handling and caring for the library and its books. It was also decided that the library should be open four times a week, the exact days to be announced later.

The meeting with Mrs. Brown was a very pleasant one. A luncheon was served, followed by a very interesting talk on her trip to Alaska by Mrs. Lizzie A. Walker. Mrs. W. E. Sikes of Novelty, asked to have her name added to the roll call. Mrs. Sikes was a charter member of the Nokomis Club when it first originated in 1909. The names of Mrs. D. Lombard. Mrs. Grace Carpenter. Mrs. Sam Bartow and Mrs. Mable P. Johnson were also added to the roll.

'Mrs. A. Ottini, chairman of the play committee, reported that the play. "A Hot Day" had been chosen by the committee, and that the same would be presented in the early part of November. The next meeting of Nokomis Club was set for Friday, October 28 at the home of Mrs. M. H. Tingelstal of North Bend.

LIBRARY HAS MOVING DAY

Sunday was moving day for the Redmond Public Library. Several club members, assisted by their husbands and others, made short work of the moving of all books and other furnishings. The library is now located in the large room next to Dr. Sherwood's office, in the Grand Central Hotel Building. On and after September 3rd, the library hours will be as follows: Tuesday and Thursday evenings 7 to 8:30; Wednesday from 12:00 to 4 P. M., and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 P. M. The library board are happy to announce the purchase of several new books.

Among them are the Pulitzer Prize Novel, "Scarlet Sister Mary" by Julia Peterkin, which portrays the life of the Gullah negroes in the Great Blue Brook Plantation. a story full of the earth's richness and the sun's warmth. "The women of the family" by Margaret Culkin Banning, an understanding novel of the vital problems of love and marriage. This book has two great appeals—it is a story of deep and emotional power and it is written out of a genuine understanding of men and women. "The Rat" by Phyllis Bottome is a great fascinating story of romance of the Parisian underworld. "Mystery Reef" by Harold Bindloss is a tale filled with swift moving adventure and courage in a wild setting with the beauty of tropical seas and mystery "Swedey" of soft tropical nights. by Ethel Hueston, author of the Prudence Books, is considered the best and most assured novel written by Mrs. Hueston.

February 23, 1933

Its Moving Day at Redmond Library

Moving day for the Redmond public library is all set for next Sunday. On that day the books will be moved into their new home and the Nokomis club is hopeful that all will be in readiness so that their new home may be open to the public and to users of the library by March 1. The plan has been worked out whereby the move may be made without closing the library at any time.

The old home of the library has been rented by the town council and hereafter the meeting of the city dads will be held in that building.

Library Now in its New Quarters

Sunday was moving day for the Redmond public library. The hundreds and hundreds of books gathered together thru the efforts of the Nokomis club, sponsors of the library, were moved with efficiency and speed to their new home, where the new library is now open to the public. [L]

The committee which was responsible for the moving of the library feels deeply indebted to those who assisted and takes this opportunity of expressing its appreciation.

Nokomis club invites everyone to visit its new building, to make use of its library and to use its slogan "The Library is Yours—Use It!"

The new library is a bright and cheery home with its attractive walls, its colorful drapes, and its world of shelf space which spells "no more crowded books."

Library hours will be the same as always: Tuesday and Thursday evenings from seven to eight-thirty; Wednesdays from eleven-thirty a. m. to four p. m.; and Saturday afternoons from two to four.

The library board is now looking forward to the purchase of several new books in the near future.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Originally recruited by Audrey Gorlick as her chauffeur to the Nokomis Club meetings, Alexa Munoz was attracted by the club heritage and became a Nokomis Club member in 2003. She is an active participant in club activities, and is currently the club President.

Alexa is also a member of the Redmond Historical Society, and is experienced in nonprofit organizations where she has served in several board capacities. She has been active in government and held appointive offices at the city and county levels, and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Seattle University.

Her interest in flowers and plants led her to study Floral Design and Environmental Horticulture at Lake Washington Technical College where she was awarded an Associate of Applied Science degree. She has worked in Horticulture for several years, and has also been a business owner.

In her leisure time Alexa reads, sews, does cross-stitch or other needlework, walks for exercise, and watches football. A musician, she has performed for more than 40 years with orchestras and small ensembles as a cellist.

Alexa is from Bakersfield, California, and resided in the San Francisco Bay Area before relocating to the Redmond area in 1979. She is the mother of two sons and a daughter.

I expect to pass through life but once,
If therefore, there be any kindness
I can show, or any good thing I can Do to any fellow being; let me do it now,
And not deter or neglect it, as I shall
Not pass this way again.

~ William Penn
